ROCKEFELLER AT LAST FEELS CLUTCH OF LAW

After Days of Dodging Oil Croesus Accepts Subpena from United States.

ROCKEFELLER FOUND AT SON-IN-LAW'S HOME

For Days Son-in-Law Has Been Denying Presence of Rockefeller, Although Oil Magnate Seems to Have Been in Massachusetts All the Time.

Pittsfield, Mass., July 3.—After a search lasting nearly two weeks, in which representatives of the United States marshals of Chicago, Cleveland, New York and Boston, have been endeavoring to serve upon John D. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil Company, a subpena issued by Judge Landis, of the federal court of Chicago, Mr. Rockefeller was located in this city today and personal service made upon him by Deputy United States Marshal Charles L. Frink, of North Adams.

After accepting service, Mr. Rockefeller explained that he had not been endeavoring to dodge service, but that he did not know exactly what was wanted of him.

Why Did Son-in-Law Delay?

Early in the day, Deputy Marshals Frink and James Ruhl, the latter of the Boston office, visited Tacomic farm, but E. Parmelee Prentice told them that his father-in-law was not there.

The officers professed to be satisfied with the statement and departed, remarking that they had no search warrant which would permit them to go through the house.

Deputy Ruhl boarded t... train for Boston and Deputy Frink went to his home in North Adams, about twenty-five miles from this city. Later Deputy Frink decided to pay another visit to the farm and he returned to Pittsfield and secretly drove out there in the afternoon. He proceeded through the wooden driveway into the open space in front of the house and recognized Mr. Rockefeller sitting on the piazzo. The deputy passed the subpena to the oil magnate, explaining at the same time that Mr. Rockefeller's presence in the federal court at Chicago on July 6, was needed.

Rockefeller Chatted With Officer.

Mr. Rockefeller accepted service with a smile, shook hands with the deputy and expressed pleasure at meeting him. He invited the officer to sit on the piazza and rest, which invitation was accepted. Mr. Rockefeller chatted for a few moments, saying that he had not intended to evade the officers, but that he did not know exactly what was desired of him.

He referred to the newspaper stories that have been printed about him recently and ridiculed the idea that he had been surrounded by armed guards or that the Tacomic farm and estate had been ripped with a searchlight. As the officer was leaving the house Mr. Rockefeller again shook hands with him, saying he was glad to have met him and added:

"If you are ever near my home I hope you will come and call on me."

It is thought Mr. Rockefeller was advised after the morning call of the officers that he had better accept the service.

It is generally believed that Mr. Rockefeller has been at Tacomic farm since last Thursday night. In reply to questions regarding Mr. Rockefeller's presence at Tacomic farm, Mr. Prentice on Saturday said that Mr. Rockefeller was not there, and offered a reward of $50,000 to any one who would prove that his father-in-law was in Pittsfield.

Officers Surrounded Cleveland Home

Cleveland, Ohio, July 3.—Deputy United States marshals continued their search for John D. Rockefeller here today for the purpose of serving him with a subpena to appear in court in Chicago next Saturday. With an increased number of deputies at his command, Marshal Chandler had the grounds at Forest Hill thoroughly gone over by his men. Deputy marshals also called at the homes of a number of Rockefeller's friends where it was thought he possibly might take refuge.

More than twenty deputies, each with a copy of the subpena, are now searching for Mr. Rockefeller, in the city or its suburbs.

As a result of the excitement incident to the Rockefeller residence being placed under guard, it is said that Mrs. Rockefeller has become seriously ill. She is suffering from nervousness and is attended by a trained nurse.

ALABAMA TARIFF SCHEDULE.

Charges Are Adopted Under the New Law.

Montgomery, Ala., July 3.—(Special.)—The Alabama railroad commission today adopted a full tariff schedule for express companies in Alabama by virtue of the new law recently passed by the legislature. A minimum charge of 25 cents for 5 pounds and less to all parts of the state is made.

Mayor Schmitz in Court.

San Francisco, July 3.—Mayor Schmitz was before Judge Dunne today to answer the indictments charging him with accepting $55,000 as a bribe from the United railroads and $3,275 from the gas company, but as the prosecution had failed to have ready the transcript of the testimony before the grand jury the case was continued to next Tuesday. Schmitz was returned to jail.

TROOPS RIOT ON WARPATH AT JAMESTOWN

Five Hundred Kentucky and Sonth Carolina Soldiers Cause Trouble.

RIOTERS ARE CHARGED BY EXPOSITION GUARDS

Several Men Were Injured in the Fighting—For a Time Riotous Troops Took Charge of the Shows on the Warpath.

Norfolk, Va., July 3.—Five hundred soldiers, members of the South Carolina and First Kentucky regiments, in camp at the Jamestown exposition grounds, tonight became riotous, threw off all discipline, intimidated concessionaries and took charge of shows on the warpath, and when the Powhatan Guards interfered a riot followed, several being injured. The injured are:

Joseph Brasher, company G, Kentucky regiment, probable fracture of skull; Guard Preas, Powhatan Guards; Captain Carpenter, of Powhatan Guards; Adjutant Carwood, Guard Kennedy and several others suffered slight wounds.

Soldiers Were Drinking.

Earlier in the night the soldiers, who were drinking, became noisy and were repeatedly cautioned by the guards. Later, when their number had increased to about 300, they threw aside all restraint and proceeded to the warpath, where they invaded places of amusement, refusing to pay admission fees or to leave when ordered out of the temple of mirth, beauty show and streets of Cairo, which were the principal sufferers. At the latter place about fifteen Powhatan Guards attempted to restore order and the trouble followed. The guards were forced to use their sabers to beat the men back. Captain Carpenter and Adjutant Garwood were soon on the scene and succeeded in ejecting the men from the streets of Cairo.

Tried to Take Charge of Shows.

The soldiers soon returned, their number augmented to 500. They again attempted to take charge of the shows and by order of Captain Carpenter C. C. Vaughtins, of company H, Kentucky, and J. Thompkins, of company D, South Carolina, were placed under arrest as the leaders of the rioting.

This caused a demonstration, and with drawn sabers the guards fought their way through the massed soldiers to the guard camps, keeping their prisoners, despite the efforts on the part of the soldiers to rescue them. Behind the wire fence of the camp the guards made a stand.

Soldiers Threw Rocks.

The soldiers began to throw stones into the enclosure. Captain Carpenter and Adjutant Garwood were struck. Guard Preas, who saw the man who threw the stone that hit Carpenter, dashed out of the enclosure and put him under arrest. Preas was beaten down, however, and his prisoner, Joseph Brasher, rescued, but not before the latter had been black-jacked by the guard. Brasher was sent to the exposition hospital. He was later arrested there by Powhatan guards, but it is not believed he can be removed. The guards were later reinforced by detachments of soldiers from the camp and order was restored.

REAR ADMIRAL FARQUHAR DEAD.

Succumbed to Stroke of Apoplexy In New York Hotel.

New York, July 3.—Rear Admiral Norman Farquhar, United States navy, retired, died suddenly at the Hotel Thorndyke, Jamestown, R. I., tonight. Death was due to apoplexy. Rear Admiral Farquhar's home was in Washington, D. C., and the body will be removed to that city tomorrow.

MUDDY WATER TODAY FOR ATLANTA PEOPLE

On Account of Insufficient Water Equipment Water Will Be Pumped Into City Without Going Through the Reservoir.

FOR half an hour or more last night Atlanta was waterless, and had a fire started would have been in great danger, and today Atlantans will have the pleasure of drinking water which has been pumped through the filters into the city, without the process of going through the big reservoir, which up to this time has guaranteed its purity.

As a result the people of the Gate City will not have the clear kind of water which has been the rule, but will enjoy a slightly colored drink, which may at times resemble the chocolate color.

For months past the city council and the voters of Atlanta have been warned that the equipment at the waterworks was totally inadequate, and that the issue of bonds was absolutely necessary to make the needed improvements.

The cutting off of the water followed the meeting of the water board yesterday, at which Manager Park Woodward informed the members that there was only nine feet of water in the reservoir. The water board instructed Manager Woodward to notify the mayor and chief of fire department that the water would be cut off and that the department would have to do its own pumping in case of fire. The cutoff was made in order that the main leading direct from the pumping station into the reservoir might be made free of air, so that the pumping of the river water into the city might be started.

The present condition of the water system, it is pointed out, is due to the action of Alderman Key in hampering the water board in his efforts to improve the equipment by the issue of $350,000 of water bonds. The bond issue was voted April 9, nearly three months ago, and now it will be two months more before the new main between river and reservoir is completed.

PRICES RAISED FOR CARRIAGES

Eight Liverymen Agreed to Lift the Price One Dollar.

REASONS FOR HIGH PRICE

On August 1 Carriages for the Opera Will Cost Five Dollars, Eight Liverymen Signing the New Schedule for Higher Wages.

Male devotees of the opera and other evening entertainments which call for the use of a carriage for "milady's" pleasure will have occasion to look back and ponder on the action of the liverymen of Atlanta, taken at a meeting last night, in raising their charges generally over those now prevailing.

At last night's meeting the following schedule, to go into effect August 1, was agreed to by the signers:

Price of carriage for funerals, weddings, operas, etc., in the present city limits shall be $5.

Surreys, victoria, traps and all two horse hitches, shall be $5.

Surreys, victorias, with one horse, with or without driver, $4.

Board shall be $18 per month on each horse, with one vehicle, and upwards according to services and accommodations wanted. Each additional vehicle $1 per month.

Single feed shall be 50 cents ,or three feeds for $1.

Piedmont Stables Company, O. D. Booth, Milam & Miller, Atlanta Livery Company, C. C. Murphy, Charles Vittur, A. T. Newsom, W. O. Jones.

The liverymen stated that their action was taken because of the great scarcity of labor, the advance in the price of feedstuffs and the high rents charged them for their places of business.

Panama President in New York.

New York, July 3.—President Manuel Amador, of the republic of Panama, accompanied by Miss Amador and his private secretary, arrived here today. The president is on a six months' vacation, voted him by the legislative assembly of Panama, and before his return home he will visit England, Germany, Spain, and possibly Italy. He will sail for Europe on July 11, returning here in October, when he will go to Washington for a brief stay.

Great Funeral for Francis Murphy.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 3.—The most notable funeral ever held in this city was that today of Francis Murphy, the noted apostle of temperance, thousands of citizens joining in rendering homage to the dead. The national colors on all public buildings and scores of business houses hung at half-mast, their folds caught back with crepe. Banked in flowers, ferns and floral pieces and draped in a huge American flag, the body lay in state. Dr. Frank DeWitt Talmadge delivered the funeral oration.

GOV. VARDAMAN NOT CONVERTED

Misunderstanding Regarding His Presence at Revival.

WENT TO MOURNERS' BENCH

But When the Final Test Was Put and Penitants Were Asked to Surrender to Christ the Governor Decided Not to Surrender.

Jackson, Miss., July 3.—(Special.)—The state press is indulging in considerable comment over the report that Governor Vardaman was among the earliest converts at the Cates revival service in this city, and the matter is being generally discussed especially in political circles.

There has been a misunderstanding concerning this incident. At the service referred to Governor Vardaman did respond to the call of the evangelist for penitents, knelt at the altar with members of the local clergy, who prayed with them, but when the evangelist put the final test and asked the penitents to surrender to Christ the governor was not among the number. After stating to a member of the Methodist clergy that he did not feel like making the surrender the governor stepped behind the line of converts and afterwards took his seat. He attended two or three other meetings, but did not join the penitents.

Georgia Legislator Received Cold Treatment in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 3.—(Special.) Senator Brock, of Georgia, spent today at one of the local hotels waiting for a committee of Chattanoogans to call on him for a discussion of the project to open Broad street across the property of the W. and A. As none of the Chattanoogans put in their appearance, he left at 4 o'clock for his home at Trenton, Ga., without leaving any information as to when he would return or what his views were on the proposed opening of this street.

Secretary Royster, of the chamber of commerce, was advised of Senator Brock's presence in the city as early as 10 o'clock in the morning. He immediately telephoned to the various members of the chamber of commerce committee and to others who are interested in the matter, but for some reason no one turned up for the discussion at Mr. Brock's hotel.

Inquiry was made and resulted in the information that the chairman had gone to the golf links early in the afternoon, and therefore the senator left in disgust.

SLEW HIS MAN BEFORE JUDGE AND THE JURY

Fitzpatrick Shoots His Enemy to Death in Kentucky Court House.

VICTIM WAS LISTENING TO ARGUMENT OF LAWYER

In the Panic That Followed the Homicide, Fitzpatrick and His Relatives Left the Court House and Went Home.

Paintsville, Ky., July 3.—While listening to Attorney F. A. Hopkins argue a case in the Prestonburg court house today, Joe Fitzpatrick, it is alleged, walked up behind Andy Coburn and shot him three times in the back, killing him. Coburn was sitting near the bar and knew nothing of the man's movements until he was shot.

During the panic which ensued, Fitzpatrick and a crowd of relatives quietly left the court room and went home. No attempt was made to arrest him. Coburn was lately indicted upon a charge of killing a cousin of Joe Fitzpatrick, and the case was set for hearing this term.

NEGRO BISHOP TURNER IS SORE.

Styles Vardaman and Tillman Human Asses Braying Against God.

Boston, Mass., July 3.—At an African Methodist conference today Bishop Henry M. Turner, of Philadelphia, said:

"The United tSates is no friend to the colored man. Everything that is written and published about our race in the popular magazines are in the main wilful falsehoods. Every white man who is destitute of ability, yet either wants an office or a little notoriety has to go harping and babbling about the negro and his inferiority, like Vardaman, Tillman and a number of others I could mention—mere human asses braying against God and nature. I will give Senator Tillman $1,000 to make a speech and leave the negro out, that can be called a speech."

Atlantic Coast Line Changes.

Wilmington, N. C., June 3.—While admitting that there would be a number of changes effective August 1, the Atlantic Coast Line officials tonight refused to deny or affirm a current report here that the headquarters of the first division of the system would be removed from general headquarters here to Florence, S. C. There are other changes in contemplation.

JILTED GIRL SHOOTS LOVER

She Put Four Bullets in Him as He Slept.

New York, July 3.—Embittered by the belief he had jilted her, Mary Balasi, a young Hungarian girl, went to the home of Harry Stern, in East One Hundred and Seventeenth street, this afternoon and shot him four times while he lay sleeping in bed. The girl then shot herself in the left breast. Both were taken to the hospital, where it was said they had slight chances for recovery.

A year ago the girl brought suit for breach of promise against Stern.

Great Britain Draws Color Line.

London, July 3.—The British admiralty and war office have both drawn the color line against a youth born in London of a negro father and English mother. On the death of his parents, the Strand board of guardians took charge of the boy, who has now grown up and desires to serve his country, but the authorities refuse to permit him to enlist in either the navy or the army.

RAISULI BAGS GEN. MACLEAN AS A HOSTAGE

Great Bandit of Morocco Captures Commander of the Sultan's Bodyguard.

$200,000 AND PARDON DEMANDED BY BANDIT

In Addition Raisuli Asks for Governorship of Tangier—If These Demands Are Granted, Maclean, Who is British Subject, Will Be Freed.

Tangier, July 3.—Caid General Sir Harry Maclean, commander of the sultan's body guard and next to the sultan the most influential man in Morocco, has been captured by Raisuli, the bandit chief. Raisuli has announced that he will hold the general prisoner until the sultan grants the terms which he, Raisuli, demands for his own pardon and Maclean's release.

General Maclean is now at Elkmer, in the heart of a wild mountain district, three days' march from Tangier. He is being well treated and has been allowed to write to the British minister and send for his baggage.

Capture Carefully Planned.

The capture of the general was planned carefully. He went out to the rendezvous with Raisuli against the advise of his companions.

The incident is being discussed with deep interest in diplomatic circles here and the action of the British authorities is awaited with considerable anxiety, as it is recognized that the affair may entail the gravest consequences.

For some time past, General Maclean, acting in behalf of the sultan, has been trying to persuade Raisuli to resume a peaceful mode of life and the bandit leader apparently had showed signs of willingness to meet the wishes of the Moroccan authorities, with the result that General Maclean was entrusted with the task of taking some presents from the sultan to Raisuli, in the hope of finally persuading him to come to terms. These gifts consisted of horses and tents, and to escort them to his stronghold Raisuli sent fifteen of his bandits to the general to act as a bodyguard.

Raisuli's Terms.

Accompanied by these men, Maclean journeyed toward Rouina, where he was to meet Raisuli, but on arriving the general was informed that he was a prisoner.

Rasuili says he will hold General Maclean until he is granted the following terms for his surrender:

First, the reconstruction of his house at Zinal.

Second, the payment of an indemnity of 100,000 douros (about $200,000).

Third, his reappointment as governor of Tangier and Fahs and his appointment as commandant of police.

The capture of Maclean by Raisuli is regarded as a master stroke of the bandit, whose successful career started with the seizure of Perdicaris. Evidently Maclean was completely hoodwinked. Only yesterday he telegraphed to the sultan that Raisuli had agreed to all his suggestions. There is little doubt here but that Raisuli will hold him as hostage until he is restored in power and indemnified for the losses he has sustained since he was driven from the governorship of Tangier.

L. & N. MUST USE NEW DEPOT.

Alabama Commissioner Issues Order Regarding Terminal Station.

Montgomery, Ala., July 3.—An order was made today by the Alabama railroad commission requiring the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company to run its passenger trains into the new terminal station recently opened in Mobile and owned by the Southern railway. The independent station of the Louisville and Nashville in Mobile is declared to be inadequate, and the company is given ninety days in which to comply with the order of the commission.

Boy Killed by Lightning.

Opelika, Ala., July 3.—News reached here today that Palmer May, the young son of S. A. May, a prominent farmer of Oak Bowery, Ala., was struck by lightning late Tuesday afternoon and was instantly killed. The boy was playing in the yard with his brother, Cody May, when he was killed. Cody May was severely shocked, but will recover.

BUSINESS MEN SAY CONTINUE LOCAL OPTION

Strong Resolutions Were Adopted at Meeting of Prominent Citizens.

STATE PROHIBITION WOULD INJURE CITIES

Atlanta's Moral and Material Welfare Was Greatly Injured During the Years That Atlanta Had Prohibition, So the Resolution States in Strong Terms.

At a meeting of about 150 prominent citizens, held at the Piedmont hotel yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, strong resolutions were adopted placing the meeting squarely on record as opposing state prohibition. The resolutions state that it is the belief of the citizens that that prohibition is contrary to the best moral and material interests of this city and other large centers. It is further stated that state prohibition is contrary to the principle of home rule which permits one community to make its own laws to meet certain conditions.

The experience Atlanta had with prohibition some years ago is touched on, and it is declared that, in many respects, the morals of the community were worse then than they have ever been since that time.

Unit for Local Option.

The meeting in many respects was a remarkable one. It was composed of prominent men in all walks of life. The sentiment of the meeting was practically a unit for the continuance of local option.

Dr. R. D. Spalding was chosen as chairman of the meeting, and W. L. Peel, secretary. Among those present were the following well-known citizens: George Sciple, L. Gholston, C. T. Hopkins, J. E. Murphy, Forrest Adair, S. H. Venable, J. R. Gray, Thomas Egleston, J. J. Spalding, P. S. Arkwright, R. J. Lowry, E. E. McBurney, Dr. J. C. Olmstead, E. P. Ansley, J. Carroll Payne, A. J. West, John W. Grant, A. B. Steele, R. Ligon Johnson, James J. Goodrum, John J. Woodside, H. L. Cobbs, W. L. Peel, F. L. Seely, J. H. Nunnally, C. T. Ladson, E. F. Blodgett, M. Benjamin, S. Weil, Isaac Liebman, W. D. Ellis, Jr., A. J. Orme, W. A. Fuller, F. S. Ellis, L. H. Beck, Ernest Woodruff, W. T. Gentry, C. W. Hunnicutt, Jacob Haas, L. J. Daniel, Anthony Murphy, C. E. Sciple, R. F. Shedden, Thornton Marye, R. Lee Walker, R. F. Maddox, Sam T. Weyman, R. L. Foreman, Morris Brandon, C. E. Caverly, W. H. Kiser, J. L. Riley, B. M. Blount, Fulton Colville, W. P. Inman, W. S. Byck, Henry Hirsch, and C. C. Thorn.

Resolutions Adopted.

Following are the preamble and resolutions which were adopted:

"Whereas, there are now pending before the general assembly of Georgia several measures looking to the enactment of a general state prohibition law, either of which measures, if enacted, will undertake to forbid the manufacture, sale and importation of all forms of alcoholic liquors in the state of Georgia; and

"Whereas, this convention of citizens of Atlanta, made up of people engaged in every class of business and from every avocation except the liquor traffic, representing in the aggregate a very large proportion of the material wealth and property holding interests of Atlanta, is convinced beyond all question that such sumptuary legislation as is proposed cannot and will not accomplish the purpose of its enactment, but on the contrary will be productive of great moral wrong, as well as useless destruction of property values, depriving the state and cities of large revenues and crippling the educational as well as all other public enterprises maintained and carried on by the government; and

"Whereas, we believe that the real object of those who favor state prohibition can be better and more effectively accomplished by the enactment of legislation that will absolutely protect the prohibition counties from the importation, sale or manufacture of liquor within their borders, and that the enforcement of prohibition upon the populous centers of the state, besides being productive of great harm, will fail of its purpose;

Calculated to Do Harm.

"Therefore, Resolved, That we believe the proposed legislation as a state measure to be unwise, unjust to certain localities, and calculated to do great moral as well as financial injury, without resulting in any substantial benefit to those communities.

"We believe in the principle of home rule. Any county in Georgia has, under the present local option laws, and should always have under future legislation, the right to determine by vote of the people have undertaken to exshall be manufactured, sold or imported within its limits.

"A large majority of the counties have exercised this right, and by vote of the people, have undertaken to exclude liquor in all of its forms from their respective counties.

"We realize that because of the fact that sufficient protective legislation has not been enacted, the purpose of the people in prohibition counties has been almost, if not entirely, defeated. Counties which have adopted prohibition have been flooded with liquor from counties where the sale is permitted, and as a consequence the people have decided by their votes that they can best deal with the liquor question by excluding it from their territory, have seen their rights ignored, teir plans defeated and their best interests disregarded.

"We do not believe that such conditions should be allowed to continue. To permit the voice of the people to be thus defied by those engaged in the liquor traffic is wrong in principle, contrary to the spirit of the local option laws and, destructive of the very bed-rock principles of home rule, in which we believe and for which we earnestly contend.

"When a county adopts prohibition, it is entitled to have prohibition; it is entitled to complete protection from the liquor traffic. Anything short of this is a perversion of the principles of the law and a prostitution of its purposes to unjust uses. Legislation should be enacted which would prevent the possibility of evasion and destroy every facility for nullifying the decision of prohibition counties. This legislation should provide suitable and adequate punishment for those who would violate the law. It ought to be a crime, with severe penalties for its violation, to import liquor or sell or give away for any purpose in prohibition counties. We go further and urge upon the general assembly the wisdom and the justice of enacting laws for the protection of those counties, the violation of which will carry such severe penalties that the importation or sale of liquor in any form into prohibition counties will absolutely cease.

Provisions for Penalties.

"We believe that such legislation should provide severe penalties for the shipper and his agents, in the county from which the shipment is made; that the same penalties should be provided for the express company, railroad company or other common or private carrier, and their agents, in the county where such shipments are made or in the county to which such shipments are consigned, and it should be the duty of such carrier to know the contents of packages transported by them. That the consignee, as well as any agent or intermediary in the county to which such shipments are consigned who shall receive, directl yor indirectly, by public or private conveyance, any package of whisky, wine, beer or other concoction, decoction or byproduct of alcohol ,to be used as a beverage, and any person having in his possession, for the purpose of selling or giving away any alcoholic liquor in any form, shall likewise incur the full penalties of the law.

"If the measure thus outlined is not sufficient to afford complete protection to the people in prohibition counties from the importation of liquor into their communities, we respectfully urge the general assembly to so enlarge the provisions of such laws that those who would violate them cannot, by the exercise of the utmost ingenuity, escape the full and proper penalties of their crimes, and let those penalties be so severe that evil-doers will be deterred from violating the law.

Prohibition a Failure Here.

"What has been said with reference to home rule applies with even greater force to those counties containing the larger cities which have not adopted prohibition. Speaking for Atlanta particularly, we call attention to the fact that the people of this city have, in years past, when the city contained not exceeding half its present population, made honest, earnest and diligent efforts to have effective prohibition. They spent large sums of money to aid in procuring its adoption. The sentiment of the city was alive as never before for the enforcement of the law, for the detection and punishment of law-breakers, and for the complete removal of the evils resulting from the sale of liquor. The vigilance of the city government, in its efforts to enforce strict prohibition, backed up by public sentiment, was aroused to an extent that was without a parallel in the history of this city. After an earnest trial of more than two years under these conditions, we were forced to the humiliating acknowledgement that, in spite of a vigilant city government and an aroused public sentiment, prohibition in Atlanta was a miserable failure. It was worse, it was a farce and a travesty on good morals and decency, and did more to debauch the youth and manhood of the city, by subjecting them to stealthy temptation and excesses, than all the bar rooms in all the years since, under high license and strict regulation.

Morals Were Worse Then.

"What is true of Atlanta will unquestionably be true of other populous centers. Prohibition cannot be enforced in large cities. 'Blind tigers,' the worst of all forms of evil connected with the liquor traffic, will flourish, in spite of the law, and drunkenness and debauchery will be carried to excesses not thought of under natural conditions. We state it as a fact, which we believe to be absolutely true, that during the prohibition period the morals of this city were in a far worse condition in some respects than at any time before or since. The law was violated with impunity, and violators could neither be detected nor punished for their crimes. Property of every character shrunk in value. Business was lifeless. The city lost enormous revenue that would have gone to help maintain the public schools and other public institutions, while the evils that we were trying to correct multiplied. Atlanta abolished prohibition because she was forced to, and because it was a failure.

"Since prohibition was abolished we have enjoyed the most satisfactory conditions the city has ever known. Strict regulation under high license has solved the problem. It is beyond all question the best way to deal with this evil in populous cities.

"As citizens of Atlanta, having no interest directly or indirectly in the liquor business, and representing the substantial commercial interests of the city, speaking from the standpoint of an actual and bitter experience, and for a city representing one-twentieth of the entire population of the state, we urge upon the general assembly of Georgia, with all the earnestness of our deep and abiding conviction, that the principle of home rule, involving our right to regulate our own domestic affairs in the way that will best conserve the morals and business interests of this city, be not disregarded by the enforcement upon us, against our wishes, of a state prohibition law. Let other counties adopt prohibition if they desire to do so. Let every county in the state have the privilege of adopting it, as the people prefer and protect all these counties fully, by a rigid enforcement of the law; but accord to Fulton county and the capital city of your state, as well as other populous counties, the same right to regulate their own affairs that we ask for others.

Can Deal With Question.

"The people of this city are entirely capable of dealing with this question. We know what is to our best interests, morally and otherwise, and since we have worked out a plan by which the liquor business is under complete and satisfactory control, we submit that it is our right, and should be our privilege, to continue to deal with this problem in the way that our past experience and our mature and deliberate judgment suggest. We neither champion the cause of the liquor trade, nor do we defend open barrooms. We merely present to the general assembly a condition of affairs that we know, from past experience, will be better if left undisturbed in this city. That the liquor traffic is an evil we do not deny. Unfortunately, it is universal. If we could destroy it by adopting prohibition in Atlanta or in the state of Georgia, we would gladly do so; but we are convinced that the best and only practical way to deal with this evil in cities is by high license and the strictest regulation."

Columbus City Council Acts.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—City council this afternoon adopted a resolution expressing disapproval of the state prohibition bill introduced in the legislature. The vote was 8 to 4, two members of council not voting. Alderman Kline made the only talk on the subject, saying that he wanted to see whisky wiped off the face of the earth and Georgia would be a good beginning. He said that city council should not oppose a measure favored by the good men and women of the state. The resolutions adopted request the representatives of this county and district to use their best efforts to defeat the pending bill.

Savannah Acts Officially.

Savannah, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Resolutions were adopted by the Savannah city council, the Savannah Clearing Association, the Savannah Chamber of Commerce and the Savannah Board of Trade today, declaring in the strongest terms against the passage by the state legislature of the prohibition measures that are now pending before that body. Separate resolutions were adopted by each body. All, however, join in declaring that the material interests of the cities of Georgia, and also of the country, are threatened by such legislation as is proposed.

Request is made upon the legislature that before taking action opportunity be afforded representatives of all the trade bodies to appear and present their side of the question of prohibition. It is set forth that many citizens of Savannah have their all invested in one way or another in enterprises that will be rendered valueless by the proposed legislation, and appeal on their behalf is made. Copies of the resolutions are to be sent to the trade bodies of Atlanta, Macon, Augusta, Columbus and all other cities of Georgia, with a suggestion that they cooperate in the movement.

Fair Directors Pass Resolutions.

Augusta, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the directors of the Georgia-Carolina Fair Association today strong resolutions were adopted memorializing the legislature against the "unjust and arbitrary attempt to take away from the communities the right to regulate their local affairs," and declaring the passage of the pending prohibition legislation will be of vast injury. The local representatives and senator are urged to work against the passage of any bill to repeal the local option law. Similar resolutions will probably be adopted by the chamber of commerce.

JURY DISAGREED IN HOLMES CASE

Mistrial Declared for Alleged Cotton Leaker.

HOLMES' WIFE SHED TEARS

When Jury Reported That It Was Unable to Agree—The Jury Considered the Case for Nearly Twenty-Six Hours.

Washington, July 3.—After being out for almost twenty-six hours, the jury in the trial of former Associate Statistician E. S. Holmes, Jr., of the department of agriculture, on the charge of conspiring to defraud the government by giving out the department's crop information, was this afternoon discharged from further consideration of the case.

Earlier i nthe day the jury had made a visit to the court room in quest of further instructions on the subject of conspiracy. Mrs. Holmes was present wit hher husband when the result of the jury's deliberations was reached, and shed tears over his failure to secure acquittal.

CATOOSA WARS ON SCORCHERS

Chattanooga Autoists Have Angered Citizens of Georgia.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 3.—(Special.) In answer to charges of fee grabbling and extortion made when Georgia officers recently arrested Chattanooga automobilists for violation of the auto laws, Catoosa county officers today called the turn on the Chattanoogans, charging that not only had the auto laws been disregarded, but a number of Catoosa county citizens were injured and their property destroyed. C. E. James, millionaire; G. N. Henson, one of the city's richest bankers; J. F. G. Joyce, Red Smith, and others, are named by the Georgians and it is declared that Mr. James recently had to pay out large damages caused by an accident near Chickamauga park, when Mrs. James was out "scorcing" with some Fort Oglethorpe society women. Another large capitalist is said to be under surveilence and he will be arrested as soon as he goes into the state of Georgia.

There areaboutfifty cases against ten of Chattanooga's leading citizens and the cases will be tried in August.

CARROL HURT BY BIG AUTO

W. A. Carroll, special agent of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in Atlanta, was painfully if not seriously hurt as the result of being struck by the automobile of Joseph D. Rhodes at North Pryor and Wall streets yesterday morning. He was conveyed in the automobile to the Grady hospital, where it was found that three ribs were broken. The chauffeur Tracey Eining stated that Mr. Carroll turned in the direction of the car and that he blew the signal horn. He said then he tried to put on the emergency brake but Mr. Carroll came straight in front of the wheels. Mr. Carroll declared that he heard no horn or any other signal and that he never saw the machine until it struck him.

Police Sergeant Foster accompanied the chauffeur to the hospital and subsequently placed him under arrest. He was later released on bail by Recorder Broyles. Mr. Carroll is well known in Southern railroad circles.

1 PERSON DEAD AND 33 INJURED

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Traveling about forty miles an hour, a trolley car on the single track of the Washington, Arlington, and Falls Church railway, early today crashed into two flat cars loaded with steel rails, and one passenger was killed and thirty-three were injured, many of them seriously, and one probably fatally. About 100 persons, mostly government employees, were on the car at the time of the head-on collision. At the Georgetown hospital, where most of the injured were taken, it was said tonight that little hope is entertained for the recovery of William Mock, motorman on the passenger car. G. T. Warring, a passenger of Baltino, Va., died in the hospital. The accident, caused by a mistake in signals, occurred near Alexandria, Va., courthouse, three and one half miles from Washington. The most seriously injured are:

The list of injured follows:

William Mock, motorman, both legs fractured; Roger Fitzhugh; P. T. Dewey, conductor; J. C. Plant, Glen Arlyn, Va., superintendent computing division treasury department; T. W. Sebastian; R. W. Ewing, Ballston, Va., serious; Miss Eva Taylor, stenographer, Alexandria County Court House; C. R. Veitch, Ballston; John W. Veitch, Clarendon, Va.; Mrs. John W. Veitch, Clarendon; Miss Clarice Ball, Clarendon; A. L. Coss, Vira, Va.; John B. Blackburn, Falls Church, Va.; Linton Freeman, Falls Church, Va.; Miss Ada Rhodes, Falls Church; Titus B. Snoddy, Falls Church, clerk in navy department; Tom Cannaway; Wilbur Lovelace; F. W. Boyden, Falls Church, Va.; T. B. Gorham.

EDMONDS HERE ON SHORT DISIT

Editor and Publisher of Manufacturers' Record at Piedmont.

Richard H. Edmonds, of Baltimore, editor and publisher of The Manufacturers' Record, one of the strongest and most progressive industrial, statistical and educational periodicals in the country, is in the city, a guest at the Piedmont.

"I have some kin living here," said Mr. Edmonds last night at the Piedmont, "and I came here to renew old friendships and to refreshing old associations. That's about all."

Mr. Edmonds can see nothing but prosperity for the south in the future, his predictions going into a far future. He has given the farmer and his work a thoough study and see nothing to arouse apprehension in even the far future.

SHORT STORIES OF LOCAL FIELD

F. G. WILHELM, WHO RECENTLY went to Richmond, Va., as a delegate to the Confederate Veterans' Reunion, is seriously ill in the Memorial hospital, in that city. Mr. Wilhelm was taken ill with appendicitis and was operated on twice.

TWO DAMAGE SUITS WERE FILED in the city court of Atlanta yesterday, the amounts claimed aggregating $6,000. Mrs. Fannie Goodson filed suit against A. C. McHain for $5,000, alleging personal injuries to this amount having resulted as a consequence of being struck and knocked down by the automobile of Mr. McHain at the intersection of Whitehall and Alabama streets, on June 15. Growing out of the suit brought by Mrs. Goodson, J. E. Goodson, husband of the plaintiff, filed suit against the same defendant, demanding damages in the sum of $1,000.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES HAS BEEN brought by Mrs. Essie Wilson against the Georgia Railway and Electric company for the sum of $10,000. The petitioner demands the amount as the result, it is alleged, of being thrown violently from one of the cars of the defendant company in Atlanta on April 3, as she was in the act of stepping off the car.

A MEETING OF UNUSUAL INTEREST will be held at the First Congregational church, colored, tonight, in connection with the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the church. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. C. B. Wilmer, D. D., rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church; Dr. W. F. Penn, the well-known colored physician; Dr. W. W. Landrum, pastor of the First Baptist church; Rev. J. W. E. Bowen, D. D., president of Gammon Theological Seminary, and Rev. G. V. Clark, of Charlotte, N. C.

The Atlanta postoffice will have open hours up to 11 o'clock this morning when work will cease for the day. The money order division will not be open during the day, while the carriers will make only the morning delivery.

Frank Morgan, who has been quite ill for some weeks past at his home in Castelberry street, near Madison avenue, was able to be on the streets for a short time yesterday.

500 CARRIERS CONVENE TODAY

Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Georgia Have Interesting Program.

Over 500 delegates will be present at the opening of the annual convention of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Georgia at the Turnverein hall this morning. Addresses by men of national prominence and the election of officers of the association will be the important features of the convention.

With a membership of nearly one thousand carriers, the work of the association has grown in scope and volume in the past few years, and plans for the improvement of conditions of the carriers will be discussed at the convention, which will last but one day. The session will begin at 9 o'clock, and Julian Harris, of Atlanta, will deliver an address of welcome. Hon. A. S. Clay, who has taken a prominent part in congress in matters relating to the rural free delivery service, has been invited to address the convention. No especial topic has been selected by Senator Clay, but it is expected that many will attend the session in order to hear his address. Congressman J. M. Griggs, of the second congressional dirtict, will also address the convention.

The association has invited Governor Hoke Smith to be present and deliver an address, but it is not known if the governor's arrangements permit him to be present.

The usual routine business of the association will be disposed of today, and the election of officers to serve the association will follow. No candidates for the various offices have made any announcements of their candidacy. The present officers are Fred L. White, of Buckhead, president; John H. Williams, secretary-treasurer, with fifteen vice presidents.

The Angler's Elysium.

According to advertisements all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever—but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in "Georgian Bay" we do not know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else, and they are always hungry. No one ever counted the fish in the Georgian Bay, but those that have been caught there have been counted and eaten, and if you read the government reports on fisheries you know that Georgian Bay supplies more fish than any other equal body of water in the world. The only place you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is Georgian Bay—so the fishermen say. Suppose you send for booklet, issued by Grand Trunk railway system, free, telling about the home of the bass, pickerel, pike and the noble trout family. Address W. Robinson, 506 Park Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

GIDEON STATE RALLY TO BE HELD SATURDAY

A "Gideon state rally" and campfire for the "Gideons" and Commercial Traveling Men of the state will be held at the Young Men's Christian Association hall at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night, and all members are requested to come and wear their buttons. The state and local camp of "Gideons" will hold a campfire on Saturday and Sunday, July 6 and 7, at the Young Men's Christian Association hall. At this time new state officers will be elected for another year, and also delegates to the national Gideon convention in Toledo, Ohio, July 26-28. The present officers are: W. E. McCalla, state president; M. F. Allen, state secretary; L. C. Satterfield, president Atlanta camp; John H. Wynn, secretary Atlanta camp; H. A. McDonald, state chaplain.

Did Large Credit Business.

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The only failure in this city for some time, occurred yesterday when the Southern Mercantile and Building Company was taken charge of by K. K. Farmer, as custodian, pending the selection of a trustee in bankruptcy. The entire stock of the company is owned by J. M. Barrantine, T. M. Parsons and W. H. Rogers. The company has done a large credit business for several years, which accounts principally for their present difficulty. The liabilities amount to about $16,000, with assets as much o more.

Chronic Diseases

OUR SPECIALTY:

Chronic Diseases of Men and Women, Nervous Debility, Blood Poison, Gleet, Stricture, Varicocele, Piles.

A quarter of a century treating these cases means something. Our experience has been one of the largest and most valuable in any country.

Nearly two decades in this office, others come and go, but we, like the brook, "Go on forever." Others make false promises, lose the confidence of the public and leave for fresher pastures. Why do we remain? Because our business and professional methods are such as to inspire confidence.

We do not guarantee to do everything for you that you may be offered elsewhere, but we do agree to so treat you in our business and professional methods that you will respect us for what we may have to refuse to do quite as much as for what we agree to do. We do promise to follow our patient's interests as we would our own, always keeping his interests first. We promise to do all possible, and always aim to do more than we promise.

If twenty-five years' steady work, if enthusiastic, intelligent work, and a remarkably valuable experience, is worth anything to you we offer it in perfect confidence. At any rate, this, accompanied with honest, straightforward business methods, has won the confidence of hundreds of patients during the past couple of decades, and, what is more, has kept their confidence.

But all arguments are superseded by one plain statement and that is, you put yourself under no obligations whatever by calling on us or writing us for our opinion of your case. Remember, it costs you nothing for examination and consultation. Call any day between 8 o'clock in the morning and 8 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 1. Remember, too, that you will incur no obligation by calling for examination, for we advertise to examine and consult with you free of charge, and we always do just exactly what we advertise, and do it without any equivocation whatever. If you cannot call, write and give us an account of your case and we will advise you by mail. Either one of our booklets will be sent on request.

PLEASED WITH NEW SCHEDULE

Central's Through Train Between Atlanta and Columbus Starts Sunday.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—People in Columbus and along the line of the Central of Georgia railway between this city and Newnan, Ga., are greatly interested in the announcement that, beginning next Sunday, the Central will inaugurate a through passenger train service between Columbus and Atlanta, via the Newnan extension. There will be a double daily service, but only two of the four trains will for the present make the through trip.

The schedule inaugurated between Columbus and Atlanta by the Central will not be a fast one for the present, although it will be thirty minutes shorter than the Southern schedule. The road between Greenville and Newnan is new, having been completed only a few months ago, and it will be necessary for it to thoroughly settle before fast time can be made over it. Then, again, 73 trestles between Columbus and Greenville on this road have been torn away and fills substituted, and it is thought best not to attempt to make very fast schedules until these fills have thoroughly settled.

The Central trains will enter Atlanta from Newnan over the Atlanta and West Point tracks, but will run through solid. The morning train will leave this city at 6:30 o'clock, arriving in Atlanta at 11:15, and returning will leave Atlanta at 4:10 in the afternoon, arriving in Columbus at 8:50 o'clock.

District Masonic Convention.

Columbus, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—The Fourth District Masonic convention will meet at Carrollton, Ga., tomorrow. A number of delegates from the Masonic lodges in this city left today for Carrollton to attend. A feature of the day will be laying the cornerstone of the new agricultural and industrial college of the fourth congressional district.

"Next Year in Jerusalem."

Tannersville, N. Y., July 3.—The convention of the Federation of American Zionists today elected the following officers:

President, Dr. Harry Friendenwald, Baltimore; vice presidents, Dr. Shaffer, Baltimore; George Tunkle, Augusta, Ga.; Rabbi Joseph Friedlander, Waco, Tex., and others; treasurer, Henry Jackson, Pittsburg.

The convention closed with great enthusiasm and cries of "Next year in Jerusalem."

EXCHANGE BANK MET ALL CALLS

Small Depositors Acted On Vague Rumors, but Withdrawals Were Offset by Deposits.

Macon, Ga., July 3.—A run was made by small depositors on the Exchange bank today, resulting in the withdrawal of a total of $75.000, which was more than offset by the day's deposits of $65,000 made by friendly depositors and the loan of $100,000 by other banks of the city to meet the emergency. The run developed from vague and intangible reports prevailing for several days past which reached a head in the withdrawal of their deposits by a small number of excited depositors.

The vague rumors which caused the run grew out of the recent suicide of Mr. Corbin who was connected with the bank.

President Cabaniss said after the closing hours that he felt sure that the excitement had blown over. He could give no reason for the excitement and the rumors.

President Cabaniss and the officials of the bank at a directors' meeting Tuesday night made arrangements for changing the institution into a national bank and this will be done as rapidly as possible. The directors believe this will be a wiser and safer policy.

The Exchange bank is one of the strongest institutions in the state. The fact that a run has been faced and weathered has proven more than ever that the strength of this institution is remarkable. It has long been a financial support to large industries in Macon and is today one of the most active concerns in central Georgia. Congratulations have reached President Cabaniss and the officials of the bank from all directions.

ORCHARD'S TALE "PIPE DREAM"

So Pat Moran Declares on the Stand.

MATERIAL POINTS DENIED

Witness After Witness Contradicting Tale Which Orchard Told in Order to Send Haywood to the Gallows.

Boise, Idaho, July 3d—At the adjournment today of the trial of William D. Haywood for the murder of Former Governor Steunenberg, the prosecution served notice of its intention to submit a series of motions to strike out evidence of the defense unless the connecting testimony that has been promised is forthcoming. Attorneys Darrow and Richardson were on their feet instantly, to say together that the defense also would have some motions to make, so that the taking of testimony will probably be interrupted for an extended argument on the admissibility of a mass of evidence already in the record.

The defense operated today along nearly all of its lines. There were attacks on Orchard's testimony at several points; there was a showing that union miners had been abused by mine owners and militia at Cripple Creek and Telluride; there was a showing that Pinkerton agents had advised violence and endeavored to prolong a strike. A woman who served with the relief committee that looked after the families of the deported miners at Cripple Creek swore that she had been twice arrested and twice warned that if she persisted in her work she would be deported, and a woman placed Orchard with Detective Scott, and leaving the night of the second attempt to wreck the Florence and Cripple Creek Railway train.

Two of the witnesses were men who figured conspicuously in the testimony of Orchard. They were David Coates, formerly lieutenant governor of Colorado, and Patrick Moran, formerly a saloon keeper at Cheyenne. Coates positively denied Orchard's version of the plot to kidnap the children of August Paulson, and Moran denied that he made a trip from Cheyenne to Denver to get $500 from George A. Pettibone for Orchard. Moran described Orchard's story a "pipe dream." The trial will rest over the Fourth of July.

Professor Believes in Orchard.

Boston, July 3.—In a newspaper interview Professor Hugo Muensterberg, the Harvard psychologist, who has been attending the Haywood trial at Boise for the purpose of studying the mind of Harry Orchard, says that he believes Orchard's confession to be thoroughly true.

"I visited the penitentiary," he said, "and made a psychological examination of Orchard lasting eight hours, but it is impossible to sketch the results of this test in any popular way without giving also the technical data upon which my conclusions rest."

SEEING SIGHTS AT JAMESTOWN

The Constitution's Party Are Greatly Enjoying Visit.

LADIES ON THE WAR PATH

Party Also Sails the James River to the Island Where the Colonists Landed Three Hundred Years Ago.

Jamestown Exposition, Va., July 3.—(Special.)—The Constitution's exposition party arrived at 9:30 Tuesday via the Seaboard on time. The Rosedale, the best boat of the fleet of the People's line, took the party on board at once for an excursion to Old Jamestown island. A delightful luncheon was served as the party went up James river. Some of the ladies had never enjoyed a boat ride before, and many and curious were the expressions of pleasure and delight as a bend of the majestic James river brought new scenes into view.

An Hour on the Island.

An hour was spent on the island, and points of historic interest were visited, prominently the old church tower, the tomb of Governor Yeardly, the house of burgesses, Pocahontas spring and the old Ambler mansion ruins. The confederate fortifications on the island attracted considerable attention. Repairs are in progress for the preservation of this fort.

The party registered at the Inside Inn, where all are comfortably quartered. The first view of the Jamestown exposition was had Wednesday. The first break at it was a visit to the Georgia building ,and greetings from and to Mrs. John Hughes, the charimng hostess and her excellent assistant, Miss Sallie Long. To attempt to describe the hubbub of some sevetny-odd ladies greeting each other, Miss Long leading, is past the buzz-saw capacity o' this writer's pencil.

Only a portion of the government building was visited today. A very thorough presentation of all subjects marks this as it does all other of Uncle Sam's efforts. The ladies will take it leisurely and see the whole show thoroughly.

On the Warpath.

Tonight the war path was visited. The streets of Cairo are inevitably present with the wild screech of fluterinos and the throb of noisy drums. The best performances seen tonight were Paul Revere's ride, Princess Trixie, the trained horse, and the finest wild west show here, ranch 101, which holds about the same relation to this as did the Boer war to the St. Louis exposition.

All The Constitution party are well, in fine spirits and in high feather. The visit is well timed, as the exposition's main features are practically complete. Work continues in a few places, but it is a splendid show, and a great credit to the promoters.

Why live in a hot, stuffy flat when you can live at the Sweetwater Park Hotel at Lithia Springs, Ga.?

REV. S. A. COWAN RESIGNS CHARGE

Pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church Accepts Call to Montgomery Church

Rev. S. A. Cowan, who has for some years been pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church and who has served long and faithfully as the able and loved secretary of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' Association, has resigned his pastorate and will on the 1st of August leave for his new field in Montgomery.

The Immanuel Baptist church has shown a splendid record under his management and has now about 500 members. It had nothing near the membership it now has when he took charge.

The church to which he goes is located in the new part of Montgomery, a section of the city which is growing more rapidly than any other. The prospects of the church at that point are very bright.

FREDERICK CLARKE IS DEAD

Aged Citizen, Who Was a Native of Bath, England, Passed Away Yesterday.

Frederick Clarke, a native of Bath, England, who recently moved to Atlanta from New Jersey, died at the advanced age of 82 years at the home oh his nephew, Earnest E. Clarke, in Inman park, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Clarke was a retired business man and had made many friends since his residence in Atlanta. He had at one time been in business in Key West, Florida, but came in April of the present year to this city. Of a genial and sunny nature, Mr Clarke soon won the hearts of those who became acquainted with him.

The funeral will be held at the residence of his nephew, Earnest F. Clarke, at 45 Poplar circle, Inman park, at 10:30 o'clock, Friday morning. The interment will be at Westview.

BIGINCREASE IN HOMICIDES

Report of Prison Commission Furnishes Some Distressing Facts

Within a single year the number of murderers in the state penitentiary has increased 192, and there are twenty-one more serving sentences for manslaughter. The prison commission, in its annual report, which has just been received from the printer, calls the attention of the general assembly to some alarming facts in this connection.

Upon this subject the commission says:

"Your attention is directed to the unusual increase in the number of convicts during the past twelve months.

"By reference to table No. 2 it will be seen that the convicts have increased in number 120, or 5.10 per cent, which is the fourth year showing an increase since 1895, and that this increase is much larger than for any of the three preceding years. This fact alone, considering the rapid increase in the state's population, would not be of interest, but when considered in connection with table No. 4, showing the crimes for which the convicts are serving terms, does attract and demand the serious consideration of all good citizens, indicating a condition at once dangerous to the citizen and seriously menacing the peace and tranquillity of the government.

"The latter table shows that there are at present in the penitentiary, and convicts for the crime of mruder, and 305 for manslaughter, a total of 935 for homicides. A year ago the records showed 438 for murder and 284 for manslaughter, a total of 722, an increase in twelve months of 213 for homicides. The same table shows 267 for assault to murder and 38 for unlawful shooting, making a total for homicides and attempts to take human life of 1,240, or more than 50 per cent of all the convicts in the penitentiary. In ten years the convicts for all crimes have only increased 10 per cent, while during the same period the convicts for homicides and attempts to commit homicides have increased more than 12 per cent."

Financial Results.

The prison commission's report also shows that the total receipts of the state on convict labor contracts during the year ending April 1, 1907, was $353,455.55, the bulk of which, after the expenses of the penitentiar, system are paid, goes to the public schools. The amount from the sale of farm products converted into the treasury during the year was $311,550.51, and the commission is also entitled to credit for the convicts which are working on the public roads in certain counties of the state under the new act. The labor of these is valued at $129,150, making the total value of the prison system to the state $482,605.55. The total expenses of the penitentiary system for the year were $115,000, leaving the net result to the state of $347.605.55.

In its capacity as a pardon board during the year, the prison commission in capital cases recommended commutation to life imprisonment of four, and declined to recommend 10. In other felonies there were recommended 15 pardons, commutations to present service, and in 175 cases the commission refused to recommend. In misdemeanor cases 12 pardons and 43 commutations were recommended, while 29 were declined.

Convicts Worth More.

The commission calls attention to the interesting fact that it has recently approved a subcontract for state convict labor at $570 per annum for each able-bodied man, and states it is convinced that under present conditions, this price for labor is not extreme.

On this subject the commission says:

"The commission has recently approved a sub-contract at $570.00 per capita, per annum, and after careful consideration is convinced that, under present conditions, this price for the labor received is not extreme. Under this contract, and the law, it probably costs this sub-contractor $100.00 more per annum, for each convict, than the price named, making a total of $670.00 per capita, per annum, which divided by three hundred and thirteen working days, makes the cost to him per diem $2.14. Ordinary free labor, in saw mills, mines, brick yards, and turpentine farms commands from $1.50 to $2.00 per day, working in no case more than five days in the week, and frequently less. The heaviest expenses of the plant are the want of a full complement of labor. Convict labor, at the pursuits in which it is employed, soon becomes skillful, and accomplishes at least twenty-five per cent more in the same time than free labor which is constantly changing employment, and becomes skilled in none.

"It is, therefore, confidently expected, should it be determined to hire this labor again, that it wil bring at least $450.00, and probably more, provided, of course, business conditions remain unchanged.

"There seems to be a greater demand among the counties for convict labor upon the public road , but if five hundred more convicts should be put at this work there would still remain one thousand to twelve hundred which must be otherwise disposed of.

"The labor of one-half of these put out under contracts, similar to those now engaged in, should bring more than enough to maintain the other half, should the general assembly see fit to employ them in extending the state railroad from Atlanta to the sea."

Will Extend the Sewer System.

Cordele, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The contract for the extension of sewers and water mains for the city has been let, and Cordele will expend the sum of $45,000 in these public improvements, while several thousand dollars are being expended on street grading and making preparation for paving. Crisp county in building the county court house and jail is expending $80,000.

The Rural Officers.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Bailiffs C. A. Ellison and C. C. Layfield have been designated by the solicitors of the superior and city courts to act as special criminal bailiffs in Muscogee county, outside the city limits. People in the suburbs have been making an urgent appeal for some time for rural police.

THEY ROBBED THEIR FRIENDS

Three Chicago Millionaires Branded by a Court Decision.

Chicago, July 3.—Lafayette McWilliams, a millionaire, former partner in the firm of Marshall Field & Co., and a cousin of the late Mrs. William McKinley, Daniel M. Lord, former vice president of the Metropolitan Trust and Savings bank of this city, and D. W. Kemball, a promoter, were today declared by Judge Mack in a decision made by him to be guilty of misappropriating $12,500 belonging to their personal friends.

The finding of the court was in a suit brought by the friends of McWilliams and Lord to set aside a transaction in which they invested $70,000 in Indiana oil lands. Before the complainants became interested in the land, McWilliams and Lord had tried without success to sell it for $12,500 and had represented to the complainants that it was worth $70,000. Later they renewed options for $57,500 and then, according to the evidence in the case, induced their friends to enter into a deal to purchase the property for $70,000.

The complainants in the case were all personal friends, neighbors and fellow club members of Lord and McWilliams, and the suit has caused much bitter feeling among them.

SIX ITALIANS WILL BE TRIED

PRECAUTIONS WELL TAKEN

Four Men and Two Women, Suspected of Conspiracy in Case of the Lamana Boy, Are Sent to County Seat for Trial.

New Orleans, July 3.—Surrounded by police officers and special deputies, six Italians, four men and two women, who have ben held in the parish prison here in connection with the kidnaping and murder of 8-year-old Walter Lamana, were placed aboard a train today and taken to Hahnville, the seat of St. Charles parish, where they will be arraigned on the charge of conspiracy to murder, for which they were all indicted last Monday.

Following the excitement which prevailed throughout New Orleans and the adjoining parishes after the child was killed and the threats which were made when his headless body was found in St. Charles parish ten days ago, Governor Blanchard deemed it best to take every precaution and offered the use of state troops to the police of New Orleans and the St. Charles sheriff. The offer was declined, however. When the prisoners were taken to Hahnville today there was no demonstration nor disorder.

PRESIDENT CLOWRY STANDS PAT.

Western Union, He Says, Will Keep the Agreement.

New York, July 3.—President Clowry, of the Western Union, today sent the following message to the general superintendents of the company at Chicago, New York, Atlanta and San Francisco:

"There is no truth in the rumors being circulated throughout the country that the Western Union Telegraph Company has receded from the position taken in my letter of June 20, to the Hon. Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor. I had another meeting with Commissioner Neill last Monday afternoon and assured him that, notwithstanding the unwarranted action in calling a strike at San Francisco, the company would carry out the conditions set forth in that statement in good faith."

IN CONVENTION AT SELMA, ALA.

State Commercial and Industrial Associations Are in Convention.

Selma, Ala., July 3.—The thirteenth annual convention of the State Commercial and Industrial Associations convened in Selma today at noon in the Young Men's Christian Association hall. The attendance is not large, but is composed of representative business men of Alabama. The meeting was called to order by President A. G. Forbes, of the Alabama Commercial and Industrial Association. Mayor V. P. Atkins delivered the address of welcome, and this was responded to by Hon. John C. Kylseyter, of New Decatur. President Forbes' annual address was full of strong thoughts for Alabama's good and Alabama's future responsibility. The convention will be in session two days.

MEMORIAL HELD IN COURT ROOM

Interesting Exercises in Honor of Late Chief Justice Bleckley.

Interesting and impressive exercises were held, beginning yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, in the supreme court room at the capitol, in honor of the late Chief Justice Logan E. Bleckley.

There were present in the court room many attorneys from all sections of the state, friends and relatives of the late chief justice, among the latter being Mrs. Logan E. Bleckley, Mrs. Logan Bleckley, Mrs. Hugh Culberson, Mrs. Donald Wilson, and others.

The memorial, a scholarly paper and a worthy tribute to Judge Bleckley, was read by the chairman of the committee, Judge John L. Hopkins, of Atlanta. Other members of the memorial committee who might desire to do so were invited to speak, and splendid tributes were paid by Judge Jonn S. Candler, of Atlanta, and Judge Joel Branham, of Rome, while another from Frank H. Miller, of Augusta, who was unable to be present, was read by Colonel Z. D. Harrison, clerk of the supreme court and a member of the committee, who also added some eloquent words of his own upon the religious character of Judge Bleckley.

A brilliant and eoquent response for the court was made by Justice Joseph Henry Lumpkin. A page of the court minutes wil be set apart and suitably inscribed as a memorial, while the entire proceedings at yesterday's exercises will be published in the supreme court reports.

DR. LUNGER HOLDS SERVICES

Young Evangelist Is Conducting a Series of Interesting Meetings at Howell Station.

Evangelist H. J. Lunger is conducting a series of very interesting services at the Howell Station Christian church, of which Dr. Alfred E. Seddon is pastor. Mr. Lunger is a native of the keystone state. He was educated at Kentucky University and has held a pastorate for several years at Rochester, N. Y. He has planned to spend about three months in Georgia, doing evangelistic work, under the auspices of the Georgia state boar dof Christian missions.

He will probably continue the work at Howell Station until the end of next week, and possibly longer. Mr. Lunger is a young man of very pleasing address. His style of preaching is practical and plain. He arouses the interest of his hearers at the very beginning of his discourse, and holds it to the end. He is preaching every night at 7:30 o'clock, and on Sunday morning and night.

NEGRO INSULTED WHITE GIRL.

Given Heavy Fine by Recorder for Approaching Young Ladies.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—In the mayor's court in Girard, Vest McClain, a negro, was fined $50 and costs, with the alternative of ninety days in the chaingang, for insulting a young lady of that city. Going up to a group of three young ladies who were walking home, he took hold of the arm of one of them, and said: "I want to talk to you."

Just at that juncture her brother appeared and the negro fled. The Girard police located him after a diligent search. When arraigned before Mayor Price, he said he was drunk at the time he did the deed.

FLAT RATE FOR 'PHONE TOLLS.

City of Louisville Wins Case in the United States Court.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—The application of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company for an injunction to prevent the city of Louisville from establishing. A flat rate for tolls, was dismissed by the United States circuit court of appeals today. It was held that no federal question was involved.

Bank Manager Stole $1,000,000.

Berlin, July 3.—It developed today that last week's bank failure at Marienburg, due to the defalcation of the manager of the concern, was more serious than at first expected. The losses are now said to total about $1,000,000. Thousands of small depositors lost their savings and many tradesmen were ruined.

PACKED $96,000 IN HIS SUIT CASE

Then Paying Teller Walked Out of the Bank.

NEW YORK CONCERN TOUCHED

Trusted Employee Puts All Money on Hand in His Suit Case and Leaves, Stating He Was Going on a Vacation.

New York, July 3.—Detectives throughout the United States are searching today for Chester B. Runyan, paying teller of the Windsor Trust Company, who the directors allege is missing with $96,615 in cash. The case is being handled by private detectives. George W. Young, a director of the trust company, confirms the reports of the defalcation, which the detectives say is one of the most remarkable ever reported. Runyan is accused of having placed $96,317 in currency in a suit case last Saturday and departed, after shaking hands with his associates. Runyan, it is said, did not even go to his apartments to bid good-bye to his wife, to whom he had been married for five years. Runyan is said to have taken all the cash available in the bank last Saturday. The directors, it is stated, have made up all the loss of the defalcation.

Runyan was a man of exemplary habits, so far as is known, and his conduct was such as not to arouse any suspicion. When the auditors went over his accounts on May 1 they were found to be all right.

John A. Young president of the Windsor Trust Company, said today that Runyan is a member of a prominent family of Rochester, N. Y., and came to the Windsor Trust Company in 1905 highly recommended.

President Young said also that the directors of the Windsor Trust Company made good the defalcation and were about to offer a reward of $2,500 for the arrest of Runyan.

NOTHING DONE ABOUT BRIDGE

County Commission and Railroad Failed to Come to Terms on Bridge Matter.

During the last city administration the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company and the mayor were at loggerheads over some openings on East Hunter street.

That same road and the county authorities seem to be nearing a clash. It is all about a bridge the railroad constructed over the Greensferry road. The railroad built the bridge and notified the county board it was ready to be turned over.

That was over a month ago, before the June board meeting. Superintendent Donoldson reported it did not come up to specifications, and the board refused to accept it, and accordingly notified the road.

Although nearly a month has elapsed now, the Louisville and Nashville draws itself within its shell and ignores the county board. A delegation from the neighborhood was before the board yesterday to inquire into the status of the case.

Extending the Telegraph Strike.

San Francisco, July 3.—President S. J. Small, of the Telegraphers' Union, last night confirmed the report that he had ordered out the operators in another city. "I have ordered the union operators in at least one more city out on strike," said he. "I will not, however, at this time divulge the name of that city, but the telegraphers have been notified and will be out in less than a week."

Grover Cleveland Is Much Better.

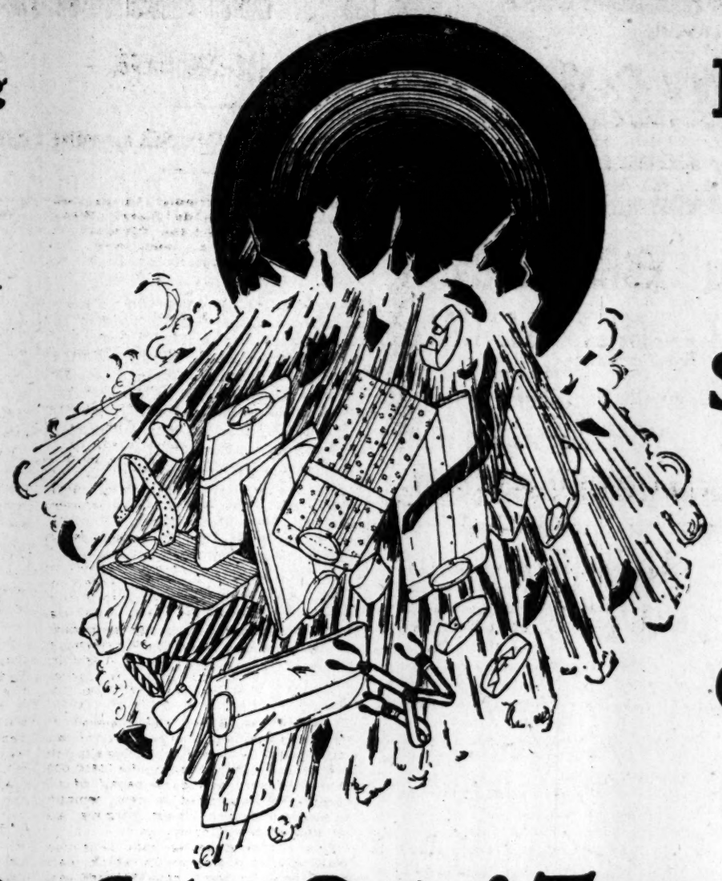

New York, July 3.—Grover Cleveland, who has been ill for the last three weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to be about the house. Mr. Cleveland will spend the fourth at his home, Princeton, N. COURT KNOCKS UNWRITTEN LAW

Iowa's Highest Tribunal Rebukes Attorney Who Mentions So-called Law.

DesMoines, Iowa, July 3.—The supreme court of Iowa, in a decision, has repudiated the "unwritten law" and adminstered a stinging rebuke to G. A. Barnes, county attorney of Dubuque county, who made an argument to a jury construed to countenance a resort to this law.

The defendant in the case is Dr. P. M. Harmann, a physician of Dubuque, who was charged by his wife with being unfaithful to his marriage vows. Mrs. Jacob Keifer, of Dubuque, was named in connection with the case. The trial in the lower court resulted in a conviction of the physician. During the trial the county attorney said to the jury:

"Instead of trying a case of violation of marriage vows here you should be here for the purpose of determining whether or not Jacob Keifer would have been guilty of murder if he had exercised his manhood, taken a gun or a pistol and shot through the heart of Dr. Harmann.

The supreme court says:

"This statement has no foundation in law or fact and it is highly important that no such appeals be made. It was the duty of this county attorney to discourage the very thing he was countenancing."

The supreme court reversed the verdict of the jury on account of the appeal made by the county attorney and held that the evidence in any event is insufficient to support a conviction.

PRIESTHOOD STUDENTS MOBBED.

William Demury, of Mobile, One of Victims of Rome Anti-Clericals.

Rome, July 3.—Toughs who were elated over the victory of the anti-clericals in the recent municipal elections mobbed twelve students for the priesthood at the College of Propaganda Fide on the Piazza Espagna. Among the students was William Demruy, an American from Mobile, Ala. The ambassadors of the courts to which the students belonged will sign a joint note to Minister of Foreign Affairs Tittoni, asking him to take precautions to prevent a repetition of the outrage.

WALK-OUT AFTER MAN WAS HURT

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Serious Accident to Machinist Davis Caused a Walkout of Employees of the Georgia, Florida and Alabama Railway at Bainbridge.

Bainbridge, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—All employees at the Georgia, Florida and Alabama railway shops walked out today as the result of an accident to a machinist named Davis.

Davis was working between two cars on a siding, when a train of cars was switched in and he was crushed between two cars, receiving severe injuries about the head and shoulders and internally injured. His condition is critical.

Striking workmen state that the flag of protection, which is placed at sidings when cars are being repaired was disregarded.

They demand that all switches to such sidings be locked, keys placed in hands of master mechanic or foreman of shops.

They say they will not return to work until the officials agree to this. The officials have nothing to say.

GERMANY IS FIGURING ON WAR

Between the United States and the Empire of Japan.

Berlin, July 3.—The reports and denials regarding American naval movements are printed conspicuously and commented upon by the newspapers here as indicating the tensity of the relations between the United States and Japan. Such a demonstration as the dispatch of the American fleet, or the greater part of it, to the Pacific would, according to some of the German critics, result in Japan attacking any American vessels caught in the Pacific without waiting for the concentration of American warships.

"THIRD DEGREE" PUT UNDER BAN

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict on Extorted Confession.

New York, July 3.—After a week's investigation the Queens county grand jury has refused to indict Henry Becker for the murder of 15-year-old Amelia Stafeldt, of Flushing. Becker will probably be discharged this morning. Becker was arrested on suspicion, but it was not until after he had been put through the "third degree" that he made a confession. The grand jury, it is stated, believed Becked was scared into making a confession.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

There is an evaporation from the body going on continually, day and night, through the pores and glands of the skin. This is nature's way of maintaining the proper temperature of our bodies and of preserving the softness and flexibility of the skin, and so long as the blood is free from impurities no trouble will result. When however, the blood, from any cause, becomes infected with humors and impurities these, too, must be expelled, and coming in contact with the delicate tissues and fibres with which the skin is so abundantly supplied they produce irritation and inflammation, and the effect is shown by Eczema, Acne, Tetter, pimples, rashes and skin troubles of various kinds. To effect a cure the blood must be cleansed and purified. This cannot be done with external applications, but requires constitutional treatment. S. S. S. is the best treatment for all skin diseases. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes and removes the humors and acids and thoroughly cures skin affections of every kind. S. S. S. supplies the blood with the proper nutritive qualities so that the skin instead of being irritated and diseased by unhealthy humors, is fed and sustained by cooling, healthy blood. COPPER CLARK BROUGHT TO BOOK

His Trick With a Rich Mine Is Declared Illegal.

PRETENDED TO SELL MINE

But Ex-Senator Wound Up In Control—Court Holds There Was Trickery; That the Minority Stockholders Lost, and Clark Must Account.

New York, July 3.—Justice Amend, in a special term of the supreme court, has decided that William A. Treadwell is entitled to an accounting in the sale of the United Verde Copper Company, which is controlled by former Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana. The sale of the United Verde Copper Company, a New York organization, for the purpose of reorganization under the laws of West Virginia has been declared illegal by an appellate division of the supreme court.

Justice Amend in his decision states that the evidence shows that Mr. Treadwell owned seventy-three shares of the capital stock of the United Verde Copper Company, which owned a very valuable mine in Jerome, Ariz., and was practically controlled by the defendant, W. A. Clark. Senator Clark determined to reorganize the company by dissolving the New York corporation and incorporating under the laws of West Virginia.

The reorganization was opposed by Mr. Treadwell, but the property was sold in 1899 to James A. McDonald, vice president of the company, for $500,000. Mr. McDonald, acting on behalf of the corporation, organized a new company under the laws of West Virginia and transferred the property to it.

Justice Amend states that it is conceded that the property is worth many times the amount paid—$500,000—and the appellate division held that it was illegal.

WILL OBSERVE GLORIOUS DAY

Independence Day Will Be Generally Observed in Atlanta.

RED MEN'S CELEBRATION

Will Be Complete With Great Fire Parade, Participated in by Local and Visiting Lodgemen—Public Buildings and Many Business Houses to Close.

Fourth of July will be more generally observed in Atlanta today than ever in the history of the city.

Many prominent stores will be closed for the day, as will, of course, the federal building, the federal courts and the city hall.

For several days the hardware stores have been selling fireworks in larger quantities than ever before, and young America is preparing for a glorious time of it.

In the morning and afternoon there will be ball games between Montgomery and Atlanta, while Ponce de Leon, White City and Grant park will attract unusually large crowds.

Red Men Will Celebrate.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the day will be the celebration of the Red Men, who will have a jubilee and fire parade. Eighteen tribes will agrive in the city on the morning trains, and will be met by committees at each depot, who will direct them to the wigwam, where badges will be distributed.

At 11 o'clock they will assemble at the government building at Piedmont park, where Hon. James L. Mayson and Representative R. B. Blackburn will make short addresses, and Dan Carey will read the Declaration of Independence, and the Governor's Light Artillery will fire a salute of forty-nine guns. The doors of the building will be thrown open, and the visitors will be treated to a big barbecue. Immediately after the barbecue, cars will be in waiting to take the crowd to the ball game and Ponce de Leon.

At 6:30 o'clock the Red Men will meet at the wigwam, 86 Central avenue, and the splendid red-light parade will be formed, which will extend to the Grand opera house. Later cars will be taken to Ponce de Leon.

Stores Will Close.

Following are some of the places that will close today:

Davison-Paxon-Stokes company, the Keely company, M. Rich & Bros.' company, the J. M. High company and Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company; C. J. Kamper Grocery Company, all stores; S. D. Mullinax & Co., H. O. Reese & Co., P. H. Donnelly Grocery Company, E. G. Akin & Co., F. C. Wilkerson & Bro., Scott & Peavy, T. R. Sawtell, all stores; Maddox Grocery Company, S. D. Blacknall, Thomas & Jones, Wolfsheimer & Co., L. W. Rogers, downtown stores; R. A. Broyles, M. Lichtenstein, Joseph Eplan & Co., Leon Eplan, J. Lichtenstein, H. H. Schaul, Sol B. Eplan, G. H. Tipp & Co., Miller & Morris, L. Roqowski, Sater Bros., Bernstein & Sater, N. Sinkovitz, L. J. Hirsovitz, I. Sinkovitz, Greenblatt Bros., Morris Bros., Sherman & Schein, George Muse Clothing Company, Eiseman & Weil, Eiseman Bros., Essig Bros., Hirsch Bros., M. R. Emmons company, Globe Clothing Company, Adler & Leers, Carlton Shoe Company, Byck Bros.' company, Knott & Awtry Shoe Company, Regal Shoe Company, W. L. Douglas Shoe Company, R. C. Black.

Store Closes Today at One O'Clock

--but until that hour we'll be "Johnny-on-the-spot," ready to fix you up in cool, airy suits from Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Rogers, Peet & Co.

--Panama hats.

--And all sorts of smartly stylish shirts, neckwear, hosiery and other "fixings."

Tomorrow morning we begin another special suit sale.

ALEX W. SMITH FOR COUNCIL

Consents to Make Race and Will Probably Have No Opposition.

Alex W. Smith, prominent member of the Atlanta bar, for years the head of the local fair association, and one of Atlanta's best known and most progressive citizens, has yielded to the general demand of his friends and will make the race for council in the eighth ward.

ALEX. W. SMITH.
Who yesterday announced his candidacy for council.

A number of other candidates have been mentioned in the event that Mr. Smith did not become a candidate, but now that he has consented to allow the use of his name, it is believed he will be chosen without opposition. Mr. Sm[illegible]s a member of the firm of Smith, [illegible]nd and Smith, attorneys, and is [illegible] with the most progressive interests of the city.

Charles M. Roberts, councilman from the eighth, whose term expires this year, is in the race for alderman, and so far has no opposition.

Attachment for $3,740.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Justice J. M. Lennard has issued an attachment in favor of B. H. Hardaway, of this city, against the Southeastern Lime & Cement company, of Charleston, S. C., attaching moneys alleged to be due the company by a local mercantile house. The cause of the action is said to be a difference of account between Captain Hardaway and the South Carolina concern.

ALEXANDER BILL MEETS APPROVAL

Directors of Chamber of Commerce Strongly Endorse Railway Extension.

At a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce the following resolution by R. L. Foreman was adopted:

"That we favor the extension of the Western and Atlantic railroad to the sea, as a much needed addition to the transportation facilities of Georgia, which will greatly strengthen its position in relation to the transportation facilities of the south; and

"Resolved, that we request our representatives to support the bill of Hon. Hooper Alexander, to this end."

George W. Parrott, who has had considerable experience in railroads, was present, and discussed the proposed extension in a lengthy manner. The resolution, which was unanimously adopted was presented by R. L. Foreman. This is the second time, however, that the directors of the chamber of commerce have adopted resolutions favoring the extension of the Western and Atlantic road, having taken the same course in May, 1904.

The meeting was presided over by Second Vice President Fred J. Paxon. President J. Wilie Pope being absent in California. Later in the meeting First Vice President David Woodward took the chair.

The session was enthusiastic in the support of Hooper Alexander's effort to extend the state road to the sea. George Parrott, who is said to have built more railroads than any man in the state of Georgia, said Tuesday afternoon that it would take somewhere in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 to construct the new road.

NEW CHARTER FOR ROME.

Will Be Presented at Present Session of the Legislature.

Rome, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—A new charter has been preapred for Rome and adopted by the council at a recent meeting, and will be presented to the legislature at its present session for enaction into law. Rome's present charter was adopted when it was but a small village, and is totally inadequate to the city's present needs. Among the principal features of the new charter is a provision for the creation of a board o fpublic works, which will have entire charge of the management of the waterworks system, streets and sewer system. It also provides for the election of councilmen by wards, and reduces representation from each ward from two members to one. This would give Rome only seven members of council instead of fourteen as at present constituted.

The new charter will also give the city policemen jurisdiction anywhere within two miles outside the corporate limits, and if the offense is commited in Rome, they can make arrests anywhere in this county within twenty-four hours of the commission of the crime.

CHANGES MADE IN CAR SERVICE

Pullman Service On All Southern Trains Between Atlanta and Columbus.

The Southern railway has made announcement of proposed changes and improvements in its train service between Atlanta and Columbus. Requisition has been made on the Pullman company, and, if available, effective Sunday, July 7, Pullman parlor cars will be placed in operation on trans 29 and 30 between Atlanta and Columbus, and the Columbus-Washington sleeping car line on these trains in connection with Nos. 39 and 40 will be made Atlanta-Washington line.

Also a new Pullman sleeping car line will be inaugurated between Columbus and Washington, and probably extended through to New York, negotiations now pending with the Pennsylvania railroad.

These Pullman cars will be handled on trains 21 and 22 between Atlanta and Columbus and Nos. 35 and 36 between Atlanta and Washington.

This will afford Pullman and parlor car service on all trains, two in each direction, over the Southern railway between Atlanta and Columbus, thereby very materially improving the facilities for traveling with comfort between Atlanta, Griffin, Warm Springs and Columbus.

District Passenger Agent Lusk stated that it is the desire of the Southern to offer the best possible service for its passengers, and with this in view the improvements and changes as above mentioned were made.

A new Pullman sleeping car line has also been established, as between Macon, Atlanta and Asheville, N. C., on night trains, Nos. 9 and 16.

The New Schedule.

Following is the schedule between Atlanta and Columbus:

No. 22 leaves Atlanta 4:50 p. m., arrives Columbus 10 p. m.

No. 30 leaves Atlanta 5:30 a. m., arrives Columbus 10.45 a. m.

No. 21 leaves Columbus 6.15 a. m., arrives Atlanta 11:30 a. m.

No. 29 leaves Columbus 5:30 p. m., arrives Atlanta 10:35 p. m.

Recently the Southern inaugurated new trains 5 and 6 between Atlanta and Cincinnati, with through sleeping car between Atlanta and Louisville. Train No. 5 leaves Atlanta daily at 5 p. m., arriving at Chattanooga at 10.15 p. m., Cincinnati 8:20 a. m. and Louisville at 9:40 a. m.

Train No. 6 arrives in Atlanta from Cincinnati and Louisville at 12:10 p. m.

Sunday, June 30, new parlor train service was established between Atlanta and Birmingham by the Southern. Train No. 23, which formerly left Atlanta at 4 a. m., now leaves Atlanta at 4:10 p. m. and arrives Birmingham at 10 p. m. The corresponding train, No. 24, deaves Birmingham at 4:25 p. m. and arrives Atlanta at 11:15 p. m. These new trains carry high-class day coaches and parlor car, with buffet broiler service. This service gives the Southern four trains daily, each direction, between Atlanta and Birmingham, with Pullman and parlor cars on all trains.

Connections are now made at Birmingham with Frisco trains, both noon and night, for Memphis and the west.

THE STRIKE WAS SOON SETTLED.

Fifty Brakemen on the Seaboard Air Line Quit Work.

Savannah, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—A strike of fifty brakemen on the Seaboard Air Line, inaugurated yesterday when the men quit work, was settled at a conference tonight between the committee of the strikers and Trainmaster Witt in this city. The men returned to work immediately upon the settlement of the strike. Their demands had been for an increase in pay. The railroad officials had been apprehensive of trouble from the strikers and the settlement of the strike was a source of satisfaction to both sides.

Seven Mules and a Horse Burned.

Albany, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—News has reached here of the destruction by fire early this morning of the barn on George W. Melvin's place near Leary, in Calhoun county. In the barn were seven mules and a horse, all eight animals perishing miserably. There were also destroyed a large quantity of corn, wagons, reapers, binders, and other farm implements. The loss, which amounts to several thousand dollars, without insurance, falls heavily on Melvin, who is a young man. The fire is attributed to an incendiary.

Ohio Auditor Short $173,992.

Columbus, Ohio, July 3.—Fred E. Smith, former city auditor of Akron, is short $173,992, according to the report submitted today to the state auditor by E. A. Parmalee, the state inspector. The report says that Smith has securities from those to whom he loaned the city money aggregating $188,335, but Parmalee made no attempt to ascertain their real value.

Young Girl Sent to Reformatory.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Lena Redd, a young white girl of this city, only about 14 years of age, who has been in numerous escapades, was yesterday arraigned before Judge Willis in the city court on the charge of escape, the result of her escaping from the city stockade one night under mysterious circumstances. The judge ordered that she be sent to the state reformatory.

JOINT SESSION OCCURS FRIDAY

City and County Will Discuss the New Court House-City Hall Matter.

The county board and the special committee from the city council will meet in special joint session Friday morning at 10 o'clock to open up the conference between the city and county authorities looking to the joint construction of a city hall and court house.

The full county board will resolve itself into a committee of the whole, to remain standing until the conference has ended on the subject. The county board, though officially noncommittal, gave a favorable reception to the idea, and the conference date was set as early as Friday, that the proper time for the notice for the introduction of the legislation permitting the bond election might be given.

At first it was thought that the city would scarcely have time for this notice, but it developed later that the city had already given the blanket notice for charter amendments, and under this published notice the bond issue can also be incorporated.

Both boards seem favorable to a joint million-dollar building.

Mayor Joyner, Councilmen Longino and Martin and Alderman Peters met with the board yesterday morning, the first three making short statements relative to the joint proposition.

Mayor Joyner was the first spokesman. He thought the time propitious for both the city and county to get a joint new structure, which both so badly needed. Councilman Martin spoke along the same line, as did Councilman Longino, all urging a million-dollar structure.

Councilman Longino stated that Athens, Augusta and Savannah had better city halls than Atlanta. Such a joint county and city building existed in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and Minnesota had a $4,500,000 capitol built of Georgia marble.

SAN FRANCISCO SUED BY JAPS

Damages Wanted for Attack on Restaurant and Bath House.

San Francisco, July 3.—Suit against the city and county of San Francisco was filed this afternoon in the superior court for recovery of $2,577 for damages said to have been sustained by the proprietor of the Horse Shoe restaurant and a Japanese bath house, at Eighth and Folsom streets, on May 23, when a row caused by an attack by labor union men on two non-union men who were eating in the restaurant, resulted in the fronts of the two places being smashed by stones and clubs.

The suit was brought in the name of J. Timoto, proprietor of the bath house.

Mail Carriers Visit Atlanta.

Rome, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The following rural mail carriers from Rome left for Atlanta today to attend the meeting of the association there today and tomorrow: J. B. Lumpkin, Rolling B. Thomas, Walker W. Keon, Mark Espy and J. T. Selman.

PEEL IS NAMED ON NEW STAFF

General Evans and Colonel Peel Commissioned as Governor's Aides.

Governor Hoke Smith yesterday commissioned Colonel W. L. Peel, of Atlanta, president of the Maddox-Rucker banking company, as lieutenant colonel and aide-de-camp on his staff. This is the first of the new governor's regular staff appointments, with the exception of General Clement A. Evans, recently appointed chief of staff, who was also commissioned yesterday.

Colonel Peel was for four years a member of the staff of Former Governor Terrell, and the fact of his having held that commission qualifies him for holding a similar position on the staff of Governor Smith under the new law by which the staff is limited in number and to those who have seen former military service.

A commission was also issued to W. C. Hendrix, of Atlanta, first lieutenant of Company C., Fifth Regiment infantry.

Major Harding Ordered to Panama.

Washington, July 3.—Major Chester Harding, corps of engineers, was today ordered to Panama to report to Colonel Goethals, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, for special duty in connection with the construction of the Panama canal.

ALMSHOUSE SALE DEFERRED

Property Will Not Be Put on the Market Before Next Spring.

The almshouse property will not be put upon the market until next spring, was the opinion of the county board yesterday, not officially speaking, but informally discussing.

The property has been subdivided into fifty-five lots, ranging from three to eleven acres each, the general average being about four acres to the lot. The plot was made by Engineer Z. S. Ruff.

At the least calculation they expect to raise $110,000 from the sale and probably between $125,000 and $150,000.

It is the present purpose to use the women convicts to do the grading in laying oft the streets, as this work will be very light.

Well-Known Negro Disappears.

Rome, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—George Smith, one of the best-known negroes in Rome, has disappeared, and every effort to locate him has failed. Smith was for a number of years an employee of the city waterworks, and was said to be the best-posted man in Rome as to the location of the different water mains and everything pertaining to the whole system. He was last seen early Monday morning on his way to work, and his family today asked the police to assist in locating the missing man. Smith had the reputation of being a hard-working and honest negro, and his sudden disappearance has caused some to fear that he has met with foul play.

DEWEY LEAVES WASHINGTON.

Will Spend Remainder of Summer at Ruchfield Springs.

Washington, July 3.—Admiral Dewey is making arrangements to leave Washington tomorrow for Rutchfield Springs, N. Y., where he will spend the remainder of the summer. Captain Raymond Rodgers and other members of the naval general board are about to leave at once for Newport to attend the summer sessions of the naval war college there. This disposition of the general board at this time is regarded as satisfactory evidence that no plans of general importance are requiring preparation.

Daniel Water For the Stomach

Daniel Mineral Water acts gently upon the Liver, keeps the digestion healthy, and thus lessens the danger of malarial and other fevers. The mineral ingredients it contains keep the Stomach toned up and the Kidneys flushed, thereby safely overcoming or entirely avoiding the diseases peculiar to the sickly summer season.

For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation, and all Stomach, Bladder or Intestinal troubles, Daniel Water is far superior to any on the market. It is an alkaline—not a salt or sulphur water. Is pleasant, palatable and light, and its good effects upon the general health are noticeable from the beginning of its use.

If you are in doubt about the water you are drinking and want an absolutely pure spring water, order a case of Daniel Water and avoid all danger of taking into your system the germs of Typhoid and other dangerous fevers.

STARTLING FIGURES THAT DEMAND ATTENTION.

Is human life becoming cheaper in Georgia? Some startling facts bearing upon this subject are disclosed in the annual report of the state prison commission just made public.

This report discloses the remarkable fact that 1,240 of the convicts in the state penitentiary, or more than 50 per cent, are serving terms of varying length for homicides or for attempt to take human life. In 935 of these cases human life was actually taken, and 630 of these convicts are serving life terms for murder, while 305 are there for manslaughter. The significance of these figures becomes more impressive in the light of the fact that only one year ago the number of convicts serving terms for murder was 438, and for manslaughter 284. In one year there has been an increase of 192 murders and 21 for manslaughter, in the penitentiary. In ten years, says the commission's report, the convicts for all crimes have increased only 10 per cent, while during the same period the convicts for homicides and attempt to commit homicides, have increased more than 12 per cent.

Here is a matter that ought to demand the attention and consideration of every branch of the state government, executive, legislative and judicial. The recent rapid increase in crimes of this class constitutes a growing menace to the peace and tranquillity of the public, a danger from which no community is free.

The Constitution has frequently and persistently called attention to the increasing boldness and disregard for life and limb on the part of the "pistol toter," who is exhibiting ever greater readiness on the slightest provocation, more often without it, to bring his weapon recklessly into play and shoot down another through mere wantonness. We have appealed for the full and adequate administration of the law, an administration which will make known that the man who takes a human life, shall receive to the limit the punishment that his deed merits.

There is, apparently, something about our system upon which the spirit of the assassin seems to feed. There is law enough on the statute books, we believe, to meet the emergency, to deal adequately with every case. Is the fault in the laxity of its administration? Is there a tendency to be too lenient in the infliction of the penalties demanded? Is executive clemency too easily obtained? We do not question the actions or motives of any official involved in the administration of the criminal law designed for the protection of the community. Each of them has felt, no doubt, that in the light of the facts before them, he has done his duty.

Notwithstanding this, it is evident from the figures presented by the prison commission, that somewhere in our system there is some vital defect, something lacking which is causing this increasing disregard of the sanctity of human life. Here is a situation which should demand the attention of every official, beginning with the juror, if he may be called such, upon whom depends much in the preservation of regard and respect for the law, up through the judge, the legislator and the executive. It is a matter for public inquiry and official action wherever it may be shown that such action will have deterrent effect upon the criminally inclined.

Something must be done for the better protection of human life. It is a movement in which all good citizens will gladly join in the interests of the security of the home and the peace and tranquillity of the community.

Pensions to Southern Veterans.

The great liberality of the southern states in pensioning confederate veterans, even when it necessitates the sacrifice of needed public improvements, schools, roads and other public institutions, is dwelt upon in an interesting way by William H. Glasson in the July number of The Review of Reviews.

This subject is of particular and immediate interest to Georgians, since this state has been most generous and thoughtful of the maimed and crippled veterans around whom are woven so many sacred memories. She has taken care of and shielded those whose service in her defense forty years ago won the right to her gratitude and fostering protection, keeping up at the same time, as all southern states must, her contributions to the gigantic national pension fund. In Georgia the pension system has almost kept pace with the development of the national system, although, of course, on a much smaller scale.

The presentation of the facts in this case in the appreciative and yet dispassionate manner in which they are handled by Professor Glasson in Dr. Albert Shaw's delightful monthly, may serve to awaken the people throughout the country to the burden the south is bearing in contributing to reward and indemnify those who fought for her subjugation.

This burden which the south has borne patiently and, in the main, uncomplainingly for many years, is annually growing heavier, and is steadily keeping pace with the increase in her own pension problem. Georgia's annual expenditure for pensions is now from $900,009 to $1,000,000.

The payment of pensions to the union soldiers, for which the south annually makes contributions in indirect taxes paid into the national treasury, was accepted by her as one of the consequences incident to her military subjugation, as Professor Glasson develops. But he adds: "Such acts as those of 1890, under which vast sums have been paid out to former union soldiers, who are perfectly able to support themselves in comfort, and often in luxury, have certainly worked a grave injustice to the south."

He points out that in spite of the comparative poverty which the southern states have endured, and the large drain upon their resources to support the national pension budget, they have nevertheless been as liberal as their means would permit, and have often voted pensions "when the pension tax appeared on the face of every man's tax bill." He gives the following summary of the development of Georgia's pension system:

She began by expending, in 1879, $70,580 for artificial limbs for disabled confederates. In 1889 she began paying regular pensions to disabled and diseased veterans. Pension provision was made in 1893 for the widows of confederate soldiers whose husbands died in service, or after the war from disability or disease contracted in service. In 1896 indigent confederate soldiers were admitted to her pension list. In 1902 a further extension of the pension laws was made for the benefit of indigent widows of confederate soldiers, though the soldier's death had no connection with military service.

It thus appears that Georgia leads all the rest of the southern states in the care she takes of the worthy survivors of a great epoch. The presence of a few unworthy names on her pension rolls does not deter her from fostering and ministering in a practical way to those who bore the brunt of the battle and the fatigue of the march.

It would not come in very good grace for a southern newspaper or a southern representative in congress to urge a more adequate division of the pension burden, but when a leading northern magazine devotes its columns to such a discussion, it is most encouraging as indicative of an awakening appreciation of the injustice that is being done the south in this era of good feeling and of changed conditions.

Texas Misunderstood.

The determination of the state board of health of Texas to deny admission to that state to all persons in an advanced stage of consumption, while it may seem drastic to some, is evidence of the extreme measures which are being taken to eradicate the great white plague.

The medical profession has long been aroused over the dangers to the public health caused by the very great prevalence of this dread disease. Measures for its eradication and preventative suggestions have been scattered broadcast in the public press, but Mr. Average Man has not shown any great concern nor aroused himself to the realization of the great need for caution.

The right of Texas to establish a quarantine which would exclude consumptives from her borders, has been widely discussed. The state health officer of Louisiana approves the course and declares it is the "logical sequence of the fight that is now being waged against the white plague all over the country." He believes Texas or any other state has the right to keep out contagious and infectious diseases.

The Houston Post, answering some of the criticisms which have been leveled against the state, believes there is a misapprehension as to the action of the health authorities. It announces that only those hopelessly afflicted are to be excluded, and the restriction of the movements of others inside the state, has been decided upon. The Post resents the suggested interference of the surgeon general of the marine hospital service, and insists that Texas is clearly within her rights. The Post states the case as follows:

The arid region of west Texas is probably the greatest sanitarium in the world for persons suffering from pulmonary troubles. To debar those who might otherwise go to that region and recover their health would be an act of unspeakable inhumanity and such is not the intention of the Texas authorities. But persons in whom the disease is so far advanced that they can merely endanger the lives of others may be very properly quarantined without incurring just criticism from any quarter.

The national government has taken active steps to suppress tuberculosis, beginning with its own employees. This activity resulted from a resolution passed by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in 1905. Some of the rules are given for the benefit of the patients follow:

Sheep alone; whitewashed or painted walls are preferable to those that are papered; expose the bedroom freely to the outside air when not occupied, and sleep with the windows open; spend as much time as possible in the open air and use the bedroom only at night; do not be afraid of cold weather as long as the body be protected, and be especially careful to keep the feet dry; keep the body warmly clad and guard against sudden changes in the weather; take plenty of nourishing food; there is no known medicine that can cure consumption; lead a temperate life in all things; be hopeful and expect a cure.

Finally it may be said that tuberculosis is not an incurable disease, and prompt preventative measures in the early stages work wonders.

Hudson Goes to Jamestown.

Commissioner of Agriculture T. G. Hudson, executive officer of Georgia's Jamestown exposition commission, left the city for Norfolk yesterday, where he goes to look after the state's interests at the exposition. It has been found that there was somewhat of a shortage of funds with which to erect the Georgia building. An effort will be made, it is understood, to dispose of the Georgia building, the purchaser to take it at the close of the exposition for a price sufficient to make good this deficiency.

CONDEMN GOVERNMENT REPORT.

Augusta Cotton Exchange Passes Some Important Resolutions.

Augusta, Ga., July 3.—A resolution condemning the cotton reports issued by the government was today passed by the Augusta cotton exchange. A copy will be forwarded to Washington and to the various cotton exchanges of the south.

The resolution declares that the information received by the government should not be withheld from the public, and that all facts should be given out as soon as they are received, in order to prevent panics in the cotton market.

WAS STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Former Congressman Everett Was Stricken While Making Speech.

Rockmart, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—While making a Sunday school talk on the subject of temperance at Aragon, Hon. R. W. Everett, ex-congressman from the seventh congressional district, was stricken with paralysis, and his friends have grave fears for his recovery. The disease has affected the whole of his right side and his speech is vey materially affected.

Colonel Everett also served Polk county with distinction in the legislature for a number of terms.

It Is Now General Scott.

Former Colonel Andrew J. Scott, assistant adjutant general, received his commission yesterday from Governor Smith as brigadier general, and adjutant general of the national guard of Georgia.

General S. W. Harris, the retiring adjutant general, received a commission as brigadier general, retired.

Prison Commission to Meet.

The prison commission will hold its regular monthly meeting for the consideration of applications for executive clemency next Tuesday, and will be in session all the week. There are about forty cases on the docket demanding consideration, but none of them are matters of wide interest or importance.

THE FOURTH IN THE SOUTH: PROSPERITY AND OPTIMISM

(By Richard H. Edmonds, Editor Manufacturers' Record.)

JULY FOURTH will probably be more generally celebrated throughout the south that in any year since 1860.

Prior to the war this was the great day of the year in the southern states for patriotic celebrations, military parades and public speaking, but during the dark days of poverty which continued with us for nearly forty years the south took comparatively little interest in celebrating the nation's birthday. Now that poverty has been banished by abounding prosperity, and the voice of the pessimist is no longer heard in the land, there comes a spontaneous movement all over the south, in villages and cities alike, to make this Fourth of July notable by celebrations of all kinds.

Hundreds of public speakers will today tell the listening multitudes the story of the south's redemption from poverty to prosperity; some will point to what has been accomplished as an incentive to still greater things; some will discuss history and some politics, but I venture to say that throughout the south there will be heard everywhere the song of joy, of optimism as radiant as that which Frank Stanton daily sings through The Constitution. And it should indeed be a day of optimism and of rejoicing. Look back over the past and contrast the gloom of poverty among farmers and business men generally as late as 1900, with the music of progress which is heard throughout the land. Contrast the ten years of 1890 to 1900, when the cotton crop, including seed, was worth from $300,000,000 to $350,000,000 a year, spelling poverty for every producer, with the $550,000,000 to $800,000,000 a year which this crop has annually yielded since 1902, which has meant the payment of debts, the betterment of farms and of homes, and the accumulation of some surplus for a rainy day.

In the decade ending with 1900 the total increase in the assessed value of property in the south was $760,000,000. Last year the increase was $1,100,000,000, or $340,000,000 more than the total for the ten years 1890 to 1900. In other words, the gain in one year was 50 per cent larger than the gain for the ten-year period. And, as we look out over the south and see how it is at last getting its breath for real growth, we can see that the advance of 1906 is to be more than duplicated for many years to come. In fact, we have just caught our pace, and, unless we unwisely retard our advance by unwise legislation, no limit can be set to the gains of the future.

The growth of the Pacific coast, which is typified in the progress of Los Angeles, which had 102,000 inhabitants in 1900 and 280,000 at present, a trebling almost in seven years, should be duplicated in Atlanta, in Birmingham, in New Orleans, in Dallas and in many other places throughout this section. As our advantages far exceed those of the Pacific coast, so should our progress, now that we are well started, far exceed that of California and Oregon and Washington.

Whether this be done or not will depend wholly upon the people of the south themselves. Imagine what would be the fabulous wealth of the Pacific coast or of New Orleans if either of them practically monopolized the world's cotton trade. We sold last season's crop, seed included, for $800,000,000. By September 1 we shall have consumed 2,500,000 bales of it in southern mills, and in doing so added $25,000,000 to its value. Then, our oil mills and fertilizer factories connected with this industry turned out $100,000,000 in products. Combining all these items it is seen that cotton and its products have this season been worth over $1,150,000,000 to the south. No wonder we are growing; but that is only a part. The total value of all our agricultural products is now over $2,000,000,000 a year, and of manufactured products $2,500,000,000, compared with $660,000,000 for agriculture and $457,000,000 for manufactures in 1880. The south is now producing nearly as much in agriculture as the United States produced in 1880, and $450,000,000 more than the whole country, excluding the south, yielded in that year.

But, while these material things may well make us rejoice, still greater stress should today be laid upon the awakening public conscience to higher civic morality, to more consecrated Christian living, to a broader development of education and to everything which makes for the highest ethical and religious advancement of a people. Our riches would prove a curse were this not true, and today every public speaker, while recounting the story of material progress, may well give a few moments to telling how our blessings should quicken the south to a new sense of responsibility to develop the world's highest type of citizenship.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

State School Commissioner W. B. Merritt expects within a few days a report from E. P. Burns, an expert accountant whom he has asked to look into the matter of estimates made for the state school fund in previous years.

Commissioner Merritt believes, and so stated in his annual report, that the estimates for the school fund, usually made in November, have for several years past been too small, and that as a result the schools have been losing a portion of the fund to which they were entitled. Following the first estimate made last fall, a revision was asked for, and about $92,000 was added to it.

Commissioner Merritt thinks within the last ten years the state school fund has lost as a result of estimates which have been too low, more than $300,000. He is anxious to recover this money to the school fund, if it is possible to do so. Whatever did not get into the school fund went into the general fund in the treasury, and was expended under legislative appropriations.

Rewards Are Revoked.

Governor Smith yesterday issued a proclamation, as is customary with all incoming governors, revoking all rewards for the arrest of fugitives from justice which were offered by former Governor Terrell prior to January 1, 1907, with the exception of rewards offered for gin-house burners, forgers of land titles and counterfeiters of the great seal of the state. All the rewards issued since the 1st of January, 1907, will remain in force for the present.

BOARD MAKES CHANGES IN SCHOOL DISTRICTS

THE committee from the board of education assigned the duty of fixing the boundaries for the school districts has made a report, which has been adopted by the board. On account of sweeping changes, affecting almost every district, it is of extreme importance that these districts be noted in order that it may be known in which ones children will be placed.

Superintendent William M. Slaton requests that all pupils report at the schools in their districts at the opening of the schools in September. All pupils whose school districts have been changed are required to secure transfer tickets to the schools in their district; likewise, all who attended last year some other school than the one in their district, are required to bring report cards, and those not enrolled at the close in June are required to obtain new admission tickets.

The office hours at the superintendent's office are from 9 o'clock to 12 o'clock in the forenoon and from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is requested that vaccination certificates be brought when tickets are wished, as neglect in this line causes great inconvenience.

The report of the committee follows:

Changes Made for 1907-8.

The district for the North Avenue school comprises portions of the Calhoun, the Boulevard, and the Tenth street districts, as follows: All that territory east of Bedford Place, north of Forrest avenue and East avenue south of Ponce de Leon avenue (including both sides of Ponce de Leon avenue) and extending to the city limits, is transferred to the North Avenue school district, for first, second, third and fourth grades.

MOVE STATION TO UNIVERSITY

This Is Purpose of Bill by Mr. Price, of Oconee.

That the experiment farm, which is now located near Griffin, should be removed to Athens and placed in connection with the agricultural school of the University of Georgia, is the belief of many of the legislators, and a bill to this effect will be introduced in the house on Monday by Representative J. D. Price of Oconee county.

On last Saturday Governor Hoke Smith, in his inaugural address, declared that this action should be taken, and the measure will doubtless have his warmest support.

In speaking of the proposed change of the experiment station from its present location to Athens, Mr. Price said:

"As it is now, the boys who are going to the agricultural school at the University of Georgia are deriving no benefits from this experiment farm which is operated and supported by the government. By the measure I am going to advocate this important adjunct to his education will be placed in easy access. Already there is a large farm operated in connection with the agricultural school in Athens, and this experiment station will fill a long-felt want. It will give the school an advantage which it has never had before, and one which all of us farmers want. Those to whom I have mentioned the measure are in favor of it, and we hope to get the station moved shortly."

The full text of the measure, which is to go into effect January 1, 1907, as prepared by Mr. Price, is as follows:

"Whereas, The congress of the United States, by act of congress March 2, 1887, donated and gave to the several states certain money for the purpose of establishing experiment stations in the different states, and, in accordance with said act, was passed an act of the Georgia legislature, approved December 29, 1888, wherein a board of directors for said experiment station was created, and thereafter said station was located at the city of Griffin, in said state; and

"Whereas, Section 8 of the act of congress, approved March 2, 1887, is in these words: That any state having colleges entitled to the benefit of this act, and having also agricultural experiment stations established by law separate from said college, such state shall be authorized to apply such benefits to experiments at stations so established in such states, and in case any state shall have established under the provisions of said act of July 2 aforesaid an agricultural department, or experimental station, in connection with any university, college or school, and such state shall have established, or shall hereafter establish, a separate agricultural college, or school which has connected therewith an experimental farm or station, the legislature of such a state may apply in whole or in part the appropriation by this act, made to such separate agricultural college or school, and no legislature shall by contract, expressed or implied, disable itself from so doing; and

"Whereas, The legislature of this state, by an act of 1905, has established an agricultural college in connection with the university at Athens, and has in connection therewith an experimental farm and station, as provided in said act of congress, and has appropriated therefor the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of erecting said agricultural college building and furnishing the same; and

"Whereas, It is to the interest of the state and the interest of the success of said agricultural college that said moneys be applied in connection with said agricultural college; therefore

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Georgia, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that said experimental station be removed from the city of Griffin to said agricultural college at Athens, and that said moneys so donated and given by said act of congress be applied in whole to said agricultural college at Athens, and that said directors expend and apply said money in connection with said college.

"Section 2 sets the date and section 3 repeals conflicting acts."

Anti-Saloon League Formed.

Hawkinsville, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the citizens last night the Anti-Saloon League of Pulask county was organized and the following officers elected: T. H. Bridges president, J. J. Harvard first vice president, H. F. Lawson second vice president, F. B. Waterman third vice president, W. W. Poole secretary and treasurer.

Several committees were appointed to take charge of the work.

To Fight Texas Anti-Pass Law.

Houston, Tex., July 3.—Eugene Nolte, San Antonio; A. J. Houston, Beaumont; C. G. Brewster, Galveston, and George H. Green, Dallas, United States marshals for Texas, met here today and decided to bring action to test the constitutionality of the Texas anti-pass law which becomes effective July 12.

SENATE AGREES TO TAKE REST

Hardman Bill Was Read for the Second Time.

After amending the resolution of the house, the senate yesterday concurred in the action of the lower body to adjourn till Monday, making Thursday, Friday, and aSturday nonlegislative days.

For the first time since the opening of the senate, some humor and spice were introduced in the proceedings by Senators Lewis Henderson and Jim Flynt, both defending the motion for adjournment and replying to Senator Knight's attacks. Some sarcasm, both of the direct and indirect method, was used.

As is usual in all legislatures, parliamentary law became a source of discussion yesterday, Senator Felder being the champion. At one time Senator Felder, on request, replied to Senator Knight: "I would be glad to give the gentleman night lessons in parliamentary law."

Senator Gordy opened the session by presenting a resolution to appoint a committee on county and county matters, which was unanimously adopted.

Senator Peacock introduced a resolution to read the declaration of independence, which was tabled on motion of Senator Knight.

Argument Over Hardman Bill.

Senator Hardman moved that the prohibition bill be read and recommitted to the temperance committee to hasten its passage. Senator Felder objected, stating the rules did not permit a bill to be read a second time until after the report of the committee to which it was referred. President Akin ruled it was in the power of the senate to have the bill read. There was considerable discussion among the members. Senator Hardman's motion was adopted. The reading was deferred until the bill could be found.

A message from the house was read, asking for concurrence in their action in taking a recess from Wednesday to Monday, making Friday and Saturday nonlegislative days.

Senator Gordy moved that the senate concur in the resolution of the house. There was considerable opposition to the motion for adjournment. Senator Flynt and Senator Lewis fought staunchly for concurring with the house.

Senator Williford moved to amend the resolution by making three days nonlegislative instead of two. A motion was made by Senator Born to table the resolution, which was lost.

In voting for the amendment there were 13 ayes and 13 nays. President Akin voted in favor of the amendment. Senator Knight moved for reconsideration, and Senator Felder made the point that it was out of order.

The resolution, as amended, passed by a vote of 18 to 11.

Senator Hardman's prohibition bill was read for the second time, it having been found, after an exhaustive search in both branches of the general assembly.

The committee on halls and rooms was announced by President Akin. The following gentlemen were appointed: Senators Wilkes, Taylor and Gordy.

A message from the house was read in which it was stated that the body concurred with the senate in adjourning until Monday, declaring Thursday, Friday and Saturday dies non.

The senate then adjourned.

New Bills in Senate.

The following bill were introduced during the day:

Senator Felder—To prescribe duty of electric and telegraph companies as to receiving and transmitting messages. To make penalty of $100 for transmitting incorrectly.

Senator Boyd—To require true owners of wild lands sold for taxes under fi. fas. prior to 1905 to pay taxes on same.

Senator Hardman—To provide for election of pension commissioner and state geologist by direct vote of people.

Senator Gordy—To regulate the commission of tax receivers of the state on county taxes.

Senator Boyd—To provide for recording of certified copies of deeds and provide transcripts from records to be admissible in evidence in certain instances.

Senator Hardman—To provide for bureau of information in state librarian's office.

Senator Howard—To amend state constitution relative to pensioning widows of confederate soldiers by repealing requirement of pauper's oath.

Senator Henderson of Fifteenth—A resolution to relieve sureties on the bond of M. T. Paulk.

Senator Hardman—To amend act increasing tax on fertilizer from 10 to 25 cents.

CITY MUST BEAR ENTIRE COST.

Property Owners of Savannah Gratified at Action of Council.

Savannah, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The several miles of asphalt street paving in Savannah show the results of long wear, and are now in terrible condition. For some weeks there has been much discussion as to how repairs should be made, whether at the expense of the city or borne jointly by the abutting property owners and the city. As the cost runs up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, property owners will be greatly pleased when they learn of the action of the city council taken tonight, which, by resolution, holds that the repairs will be made with the city defraying the entire cost.

Negro Was Cut in Two.

Savannah, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Arthur Tripp, a negro section hand on the Central of Georgia railway, was killed instantly today, his body being cut entirely in two at the middle by a freight train, which ran upon him while he and the rest of his gang were at work near the passenger depot.

FOUR DAYS' HOLIDAY FOR GEORGIA SOLONS

House Voted Long Recess After Sustaining McIntosh Contest Report.

NEW BILLS CONTINUE TO DELUGE THE HOUSE

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Were Declared Non-Legislative Days—Effort to Have Saturday Made "Dies Non" Was Voted Down.

FOR THE first time in its history, the general assembly of Georgia has taken a four days' holiday, adjourning from Wednesday until Monday and declaring the intervening week days, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, "dies non." This means three days will be added to the end of the session.

This action was taken by each branch, acting separately under a joint resolution introduced on Tuesday by Mr. Hall, of Bibb, who had it tabled on that day and brought up yesterday for final action.

As it was first introduced it did not provide "dies non," and a strong fight was made in both branches before this direction was given the resolution.

It was first proposed to declare Thursday, the Fourth of July, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday "dies non" (or nonlegislative days), and this precipitated a fight, which was lead by Mr. Dunbar, of Richmond, stating if one Sunday were declared "dies non" it would be an opening wedge and all Sundays might be declared so and the session of the general assembly extended a week after what is now expected to be the closing day.

It was finally agreed by the house to declare Friday and Saturday "dies non," but nothing was said in regard to Thursday, although it was provided that the house adjourn from Wednesday until Monday.

The senate took care of this day, and sent the resolution back with tht amendment including Thursday among the "dies non." This action was concurred in, and the house adjourned Wednesday at 1 o'clock until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The lengthy adjournment was brought about, as stated in The Constitution, by reason that the house committees have not as yet been appointed by Speaker Slaton and would not be before Friday, and would practically shut off any work this week, with a holiday today and Saturday's short session breaking up the week.

When the house meets Monday morning, Speaker Slaton and President Akin will announce the committees of the two branches, and next week will be a busy one, with committee meetings every afternoon.

There are already over 350 bills on the clerk's desk assigned to committees, which wil have ample work to do when organized.

Contest in House.

The contest for the seat of W. H. Rogers, of McIntosh county, which was tried before the committee on privielges and elections Tuesday afternoon and awarded to the negro member, was aired in the house Wednesday morning, when the report of that committee was read by Chairman Russell, of Muscogee county, recommending that the negro member be allowed to remain seated.

As soon as this report was read, Mr. Sheffield, of Decatur county, took the floor in opposition to the report, and moved as a substitute to the motion of Mr. Hall, of Bibb, that the report be adopted, that "the report of the committee be disagreed to."

Mr. Sheffield spoke at length in support of his contention that the negro member was not entitled to the seat; that two election precincts should be thrown out because the law governing elections had not been complied with, and that if this was done Geo. E. Atwood would be the winner of the contest.

The committee was ably defended by Mr. Hall, of Bibb, and at the conclusion of his speech the previous question was called and on the substitute for the motion to adopt the report of the committee, which was to disagree to the report of the committee, the vote was 30 to 100. This was the only test vote, and the report of the committee in adopting the report which gave Rogers his seat was viva voce and almost unanimous.

Rogers Makes Speech.

Rogers came in and took his seat and was at once recognized by the chair.

"Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the house," began the recently seated member, and every eye in the house was turned upon him, for it was the first time he has spoken this session and one of the few times in his seven years' service. "I want to first thank the speaker for the appointment of the committee which has just tried my contested case.

"I next want to thank the committee for that report and the house for adopting the report of the committee.

"I shall try to conduct myself in the future as in the past, so that I may win the approbation of that body which has just seated me.

"It is one of my proud privileges to boast that during my service here I had the honor to vote an appropriation to erect the monument to that gallant soldier, General John B. Gordon, whose head now rises on the capitol grounds to the sunset skies above him.

"I shall conduct myself in a manner which I trust will please, and again I thank you."

He was liberally applauded as he resumed his seat.

With the knowledge that the house was about to adjourn over until Monday morning, there was a rush to introduce bills yesterday and have them read for the first time and referred to their respective committees in order that they may be taken up for consideration early next week when the committees meet.

Among the more important bills introduced at this session was that measure from the Fulton county delegation, Messrs. Slaton, Blackburn and Bell, which provides for the amendment to the charter of the city of Atlanta for the issuance of $500,000 for the purpose of improving and installing the waterworks system of Atlanta. The bill further provides for the closing of certain streets and for the change in the liquor license, both wholesale and retail, in the city of Atlanta.

Pay for Dr. Massey.

Messrs. Whitley of Douglass, and Davidson, of Green, introduced a resolution calling for the payment of $10,000 to Dr. R. J. Massey of Atlanta, for his services during the civil war as superintendent of the "Brown hospital" in Atlanta, and afterwards in Milledgeville, where he was chief surgeon, and also for services in saving the books in the state library when the library was destroyed. It was around these books as a nucleus that the present state library was built. It was stated in the resolution that Dr. Massey had never received pay for these valuable services to the state.

A bill which is aimed to prevent betting on baseball games or horse races, and fixing the penalty that the one so doing be punished as for a misdemeanor.

What promises to revolutionize the fertilizer tax in the state was introduced by Mr. Martin of Elbert, which proposes to raise the tax on fertilizer tags from 10 cents on each ton to 25 cents. As it is now the department of agriculture gets 10 cents for each tag for a ton of fertilizer sold in the state, and by this bill these tags are to be sold for 25 cents each. It is provided in the bill that the money thus collected from this increased source of revenue be applied to the agricultural college at Athens and the various agricultural high schools in the state.

"This will not take a cent from the state treasury," explained Mr. Martin, in discussing his measure. "But will be a slight tax on every farmer who buys a sack of fertilizer, which will go to help support his son in giving him an education. It is provided that this money shall be raised in this way and no other."

Another educational bill introduced carried with it a request for an appropriation of $15,000 for the equipment of the new building at the state normal school at Athens with electric lights, steam heat and the like. This bill was introduced by Mr. McMahan of Clarke.

No More Sunday Fishing.

In an effort to prevent Sunday fishing in Screven county, Mr. White of Screven, has introduced a bill in the house making this piscatorial pleasure punishable as for a misdemeanor.

The bill is brief, but it provides that any one caught with fishing tackle in his possession on the Sabbath shall be declared guilty of this offense and shall be punished accordingly.

The last bill to be read by the clerk was that of Mr. McIntyre of Thomas, who would have it made a misdemeanor for a conductor to collect a fee from a passenger unless he can furnish the passenger with a seat on any common carrier.

With the house in session for just one week there have been introduced nearly four hundred bills, and it would seem that the end is not yet in sight.

Routine in the House.

Speaker Slaton rapped for order in the house at 10 o'clock, followed with prayer by Chaplain Parks, and reading and confirmation of the journal of Tuesday.

Mr. Perry of Hall was the first to gain the speaker's attention. He introduced a resolution asking the immediate announcement of the committee on rules and asked that they be instructed to announbe the rules governing the house by next Monday.

"Not one-fifth of the bills introduced already can be brought up for passage unless the rules governing the house are announced."

Mr. Dunbar of Richmond defended the speaker, and declared that he should not be hurried, and asked that the resolution be not passed.

Mr. Hall of Bibb followed, and urged that the resolution be not adopted and the speaker hurried on a task which was so momentous.

Mr. Slater of Bryan also spoke against it.

Mr. Flanders of Johnson moved that the resolution be tabled. This action was taken.

Mr. Hall of Bibb asked that his resolution proposing that the house and senate take a recess from Wednesday, July 3, to Monday, July 8, be taken up and acted upon.

Mr. Whitley of Douglas and Mr. McMichael of Marion each asked that amendments be made. Mr. Whitley wanted all declared "dies non," and the latter wanted only Friday and Saturday declared so.

Wasted a Week.

Mr. Wright of Floyd spoke on the resolution, declaring that nothing had been done, and a week spent, and asked that these days be not thrown away.

Mr. Whitley next offered a substitute declaring July 4, 5, 6 and 7 "dies non."

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, followed, declaring July 4, 5, 6 and 7 "nonlegislative days." Mr. Dunbar declared that if Sunday, which is a legislative day, be made a "dies non," it would mean an entering wedge which would result in having all Sundays declared "dies non," and thereby prolong the session seven days, or a whole week.

Mr. Flanders, of Johnson, offered an amendment declaring July 4, 5 and 6 "dies non." He followed later, by calling the previous question. Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, caled an "aye and no" on the question.

The house sifted the amendments and finally voted to accept the McMichael amendment, declaring Friday and Saturday "dies non," and passed the Hall resolution declaring the house and senate stand adjourned from Wednesday until Monday morning. This resolution was transmitted to the senate for concurrence.

Mr. Russell, of Muscogee, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, submitted the report of that committee on the Rogers-Atwood contest for the seat in the house from McIntosh county.

Report of Committee.

The report was as follows:

The Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives: Your committee on privileges and elections having had under consideration the contested election for seat in house from McIntosh county between George E. Atwood, contestant, and W. H. Rogers, contestee, having heard all of the evidence offered by contestant and argument had thereon, respectfully report that we find that the contest is based upon two grounds only.

"First. That the election at the 1515 precinct was illegal because one of the managers was not a freeholder and the vote of that precinct should be thrown out.

"There is some question whether there is any satisfactory evidence that this manager was not a freeholder, but as it is not pretended that the other two managers were not freeholders under the decisions of the supreme court the election was not illegal.

"Second. The second ground is that the polls at Darien, the court house was closed about twenty-four minutes before 6 o'clock.

"It appears that the managers closed the polls by the 75th meridian time, which was about twenty-four minutes before 6 by true sun time.

"We are inclined to think this ground a good one—following the decision of the supreme court that the law recognizes only the sun time.

"But even if the vote of this precinct are thrown out, the votes at the remaining precincts give Rogers 148 votes and Atwood 102, which would still leave W. H. Rogers entitled to his seat.

"There was no contention that there was any fraud or that the votes cast were not honestly counted, nor that any voter was prevented from casting his vote. We submit the contest and evidence which was presented to our committee. Respectfully submitted.

"THOMAS R. RUSSELL,
"Chairman."

Mr. Sheffield of Decatur got the floor and said:

"Mr. Speaker, I heard part of that hearing, and if I had been on the committee I would have filed a minority report."

"Mr. Speaker!" fairly shouted Mr. Hall of Bibb, a member of the committee, "anything done in committee rooms is not debatable in the house."

This point was upheld. The speaker requested that, as the contest was about to be aired, both parties to the contest leave the house. Rogers left his seat. Mr. Atwood, who is contesting the seat, was not seen to be present.

Mr. Sheffield then asked that the evidence given before the committee be read to the house, and this was done.

The evidence is summed up in that it is alleged that precinct 271 was opened and closed by railroad time instead of sun time, as the law requires, and that in the 1515th district one of the managers was not a freeholder as the law requires. It was later ruled that the contestor and contestee were entitled to stay in the house until the vote was taken, and they were recalled.

Asks Its Adoption.

Mr. Hall of Bibb moved that the report of the committee seating Rogers be adopted.

Mr. Sheffield of Decatur moved as a substitute that it be disagreed to, and spoke in defense of his substitute.

Mr. Massengale of Warren and Mr. Elater of Bryan spoke in favor of the report, while Mr. Slade of Muscogee spoke against it.

Mr. Hall of Bibb, in a strong argument in favor of adopting the report, followed.

Mr. Fannin of Butts called for the previous question.

The first vote was on the substitute, which called for the house to disagree to the report of the committee. The substitute was lost by a vote of 30 to 100.

The report of the committee was adopted by the same vote, and the negro was declared seated.

Representative Rogers spoke briefly, thanking the speaker for the committee, the committee for its report, and the house in adopting the report. He was applauded at his conclusion.

The senate sent back the holiday resolution, amending it so that Thursday, Friday and Saturday be declares "dies non."

This amendment was adopted.

New Bills in House.

The following bills and resolutions were introduced, read the first time by Reading Clerk McClatchey, and referred to appropriate committees:

By Mr. Martin, of Elbert: To consolidate laws governing inspection of commercial fertilizers.

By Mr. McMahan, of Clarke: To appropriate to trustees of University of Georgia for normal school $15,000 for steam heating repairs.

By Messrs. Nix and Wilson, of Gwinnett: To pay pension of William Atha to neice, Roxie Atha.

By Mr. Chamlee, of Floyd: To create new charter for Rome.

By Mr. Furr, of Banks, and Mr. Holder, of Jackson: To pay pension to Mrs. N. C. Pickett.

By Mr. S. C. McWilliams, of McHenry: To provide uniform method of abolishing county courts.

By Mr. Buchanan, of Early: To amend charter of Jakin.

By Mr. Hines, of Baldwin: To pay pension of J. N. Parker to his widow.

By Messrs. Holder and Flannigan, of Jackson: To incorporate town of Nicholson.

By Messrs. Slaton, Blackburn and Bell, of Fulton: To amend charter of Atlanta so as to provide for issuance of $500,000 bonds for waterworks.

By Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton: To pay pension to Mrs. E. J. Burgess.

By Mr. Covington, of Colquitt: To pay pension to Mrs. Eliza Brown.

By Messrs. Slaton, Blackburn and Bell, of Fulton: To require candidates in all primary elections to receive a majority of all votes cast.

By Messrs. Cook, Stubbs and MacIntyre, of Thomas: To authorize trustees of University of Georgia to convey certain realty in Thomasville to board of education of said city.

By Mr. Lee, of Glynn: To amend act establishing city court of Brunswick.

By Mr. MacIntyre, of Thomas: To make misdemeanor for any employee of common carrier to collect fare from person having no seat.

By Mr. Mundy, of Polk: To fix compensation of justice court jurors.

By Mr. McCarthy, of Chatham: To require corporations and individuals to furnish toilet rooms to female employees.

By Mr. Shaw, of Clay: To amend code relative to issuance of warrants upon information under oath.

By Mr. Tuggle, of Troup: To establish county police for said county.

The house adjourned at 10 o'clock until Monday morning, at 10 o'clock.

ATLANTA GIRL WAS ATTACKED

NEGRO WAS VAINLY PURSUED

Excitement at Lawrenceville Caused by Report of an Attempt at Assault on Young Girl From Atlanta, Only Thirteen Years of Age.

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—A report was made in this city Tuesday morning that an attempt had been made by a negro to assault the pretty 13-year-old graanddaughter of Mr. R. N. Robinson, who lives about two miles south of Lawrenceville. Immediately nearly every citizen of the city, with Sheriff Brown, were in pursuit of the negro. Most of the posse returned about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, having utterly failed to get any clue to the fleeing negro.

Miss Robinson is a daughter of Mr. Charles Robinson, of Atlanta, and was on a visit to her grandfather. The young lady is reported to have been at a spring near her grandfather's home, when she was approached by the negro, who carried a gun. She screamed and the negro became frightened and ran off.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR CARROLLTON

Central's Griffin Accommodation to Be Extended to Bremen.

Carrollton, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—It is reported here today that the Central of Georgia after next Sunday will run the Griffin accommodation from Griffin to Bremen instead of Carrollton, arriving in Bremen in time to make connection with the Southern to Atlanta and leaving Bremen in the morning and bringing the Carrollton mail. This will be quite an accommodation and a convenience to the people of this city from the fact that they are unable to get the morning papers until 12:37, and the transportation to Carrollton is almost completely cut off on account of the schedules on the Central, as there is only one train each day from Chattanooga by way of Carrollton. For some reason the Central discontinued the Carrollton accommodation which for several years had been running from Carrollton to Bremen, making connection with the Southern trains, and it proposes to extend the Griffin accommodation to Bremen in the evening, returning in the morning as a substitute for the accommodation that was discontinued.

Arrangements have been made with the Central to run trains from Bremen to Carrollton and also from Newnan to Carrollton on the 4th instant on account of the laying of the cornerstone of the new agricultural school. These trains will leave Carrollton in time to make connection with both the Southern and West Point.

SOCIETY

To Miss Phinizy.

Among the parties which are planned in honor of Miss Boline Phinizy, of Athens, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Rawson, will be Mrs. Henry Johnson's bridge luncheon on Friday and Mrs. W. R. Hammond's supper at the driving club tonight.

Mrs. Johnson's guests will be: Miss Susan Spalding, Miss Helen Payne, Miss Charles Owens, Miss Annie Caverly, Miss Ida May Blount, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Julia Rosser, Miss Leone Ladson, Miss Harriet Frances Gray, Miss Mildred Spratling, Miss Courtney Harrison and Miss Janie Thompson.

Mrs. Hammond's guests will be: Miss Rawson, Miss Phinizy Miss Leone Ladson, Miss Laura Hill Payne, Miss Helen Payne, Miss Susan Spalding, Mr. Winship Nunnally, Mr. Albert Thornton, Mr. James Ragan, Mr. Jesse Draper, Mr. Marshall Johnson, Mr. Hugh Spalding and Mr. Lamar Hill.

Afternoon Tea.

A beautiful affair of yesterday was the afternoon tea given by Mrs. Daniel B. Harris, this affair being a kind of house warming, since Mrs. Harris has only recently moved into a beautiful new home at Ansley Park.

The house has an attractive setting, and it is artistic within, while decorations of foliage plants and flowers yesterday added to the beauty of the interior, and porch furniture of cosiest type and hanging baskets and jardinieres of vines and flowers made the porch an inviting resort.

The rich color of golden glow which was used in the decoration of the reception rooms harmonized well with the greens and browns which prevail in the finish and furnishing of the house; while Japanese lilies and table details of yellow and green were effective in the dining room.

Delicious refreshments were served, and the hospitality of the afternoon was altogether delightful.

Mrs. Harris was charming in cream mulle and valenciennes lace, and she was assisted in entertaining by her sisters, the Misses Hammond, who wore dainty lingerie gowns.

To Miss Bagley.

Miss Helen Bagley was guest of honor Tuesday night at a beautiful dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Marion Benson at their home on Piedmont avenue.

The circular table of mahogany which seated twelve had a Venetian lace cover and the centerpiece was a circular mound of sweet peas shading from deep pink in the center to cream. The candelabra shades and other dainty details were in pink.

Mrs. Benson wore a becoming lingerie gown of white mulle and baby Irish lace, and trimmed with lace.

The party included: Miss Bagley, Miss Marion Peel, Miss Margaret Ladson, Miss Florine Richardson, Miss Alberta Rankin ,Mr. Walton Harper, Mr. Jim Calloway, Mr. Bowie Martin, Mr. W. W. Orr, Mr. Herbert Sage.

Baptist Women Meet.

The Baptist Missionary Union of Atlanta and vicinity held its seventh annual session yesterday with the Austin Baptist church, Austin, Georgia.

The morning session was called to order at 9:30 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin. Mrs. Julian S. Rodgers acted as reporter pro tem.

The devotions were led by Mrs. E. G. Willingham.

After prayer, Rev. H. C. Buckhol made a very encouraging address on the subject "Go Forward."

The minutes of the last meeting were read, after which reports from the following societies were received:

First Baptist, present three, reported by Miss Grace Landon and Mrs. Maddill; Second Baptist, seventeen present, reported by Mrs. White, Mrs. Welsh, Miss Kimball and Miss Edith Demson; Tabernacle, six present, reported by Mrs. Buckholz; West End, ten present, reported by Miss Abernathy, Miss Shropshire, Mrs. L. D. Clark and Miss Abernathy; Jackson Hill, present fifteen, reported by Mrs. Carroll and Miss Pendleton; Capitol avenue, present ten, reported by Mrs. Gillespie; Central Baptist, two present, reported by Mrs. Head; Glenn Street, present four, reported by Mrs. Holland; East Point, present eight, reported by Mrs. Davidson; Grant Park, present one, reported by Mrs. Sears; Austell, three present.

Miss Kate Gloer sang "Only in Thee," after which adjournment was taken for dinner.

After dinner, Dr. J. J. Bennett made a talk on state mission and its needs. Mrs. L. F. Turner, an ex-missionary, spoke on the condition of women in India.

The addresses were followed by an open parliament, during which several interesting topics were discussed.

Enrollment of members and reading of the constitution and by-laws followed, after which the union adjourned, to meet next year with the Glenn Street Baptist church.

Tallyho Party.

Mr. William Gordon gave a tallyho party last night in honor of Miss May Walker. The party of twenty-five guests met at the home of Miss Walker and rode to College Park. Those who comprised the party were Misses May Walker, Minta Denise, Bertha and Helen Greenlee, Feredie Arbeely, Nell Claridy, Birdie Foote, Ester Lyon, Esmeralda Hood, Mamie Connally, Lena Northington and Messrs. LaFontaine, Burt, Dodson, Dupont, Hood, Eugene Bennington, Otho Sower, Hugh Thrash, Clarence Walker, Jones, Vittur, Lorenzo Hood, Smith and Will Gordon.

Home Mission Picnic.

The Woman's Home Mission Society of St. John's church will have their annual picnic Friday, July 5, at Grant park. Every lady in the church is expected to come and bring her husband, children and a well-filled basket. Ladies will meet at 4 p. m. Supper served at 6:30 o'clock. A good time is assured all who attend.

Meetings.

A meeting of the women of St. Luke's church will be held in the Sunday school room of the church on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The woman's guild, the woman's auxiliary, the Daughters of the King, St. Elizabeth's guild, St. Agnes' guild and the junior auxiliary are urged to attend.

Mrs. Treanary, superintendent of the department of Christian citizenship for the Atlanta Willard Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will conduct the service Thursday, July 4, (beginning at 3:30 o'clock) in the large hall of Trinity's church house. Entrance on Trinity avenue. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all meetings of this union. Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president; Mrs. Jane A. Adkins, recording secretary.

The ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will hold their regular meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Degree for Mrs. Ruffin.

The degree of doctor of literature was recently conferred upon a southern woman, Mrs. M. E. Henry Ruffin, of Mobile, author of "John Gildart" and "The North Star." Mrs. Ruffin received her degree at St. Joseph's college, Emmetsburg, Md., her alma mater. A feature of peculiar interest was that Mrs. Ruffin's daughter, Miss Frances, was a graduate at the same commencement and the mother, in her picturesque doctor's gown and hood, stood beside the daughter in her pretty graduating gown. Miss Ruffin was the honor member of the class of 1907 and was valedictorian.

Matinee Party.

Miss Jay McBride will give a matinee box party Saturday at the Grand, in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Wade Lowry, of Jacksonville. Mrs. Lowry was Miss Mary Strobhar, of Macon.

Young Women Play Tennis.

Beautiful weather and the announcement of some of the most attractive matches of the tennis tournament filled the grandstand on the courts at East Lake yesterday and there were many spectators who were willing to take advantage of standing room. Even the Grand matinee could scarcely detract from interest in the tournament, and there was a goodly attendance of young women in their smart linen suits and outing hats, who seemed as willing to sacrifice their complexions in their attention to the game as the players were themselves.

There was some beautiful play by the men who were entered, but champions of many tournaments as some of them are, they had to divide applause with the young women on the courts, and Atlanta girls and visitors did themselves credit in the quality of the game they put up, and what was more important, in their ability to look pretty at the same time.

The general holiday today will doubtless increase the attendance, and the "mixed doubles" will provide a feature of special pleasure to those who are interested in the personality of the players, as well as in the quality of the play.

To Miss Barrett.

One of the prettiest of the week's parties was that given yesterday by Misses Lucia and Lamar Jeter in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Barnett, of Washington, Ga., who is visiting Mrs. Samuel Barnett.

The house had an artistic decoration of nasturtiums and sweetpeas, and the score cards were American Beauty roses.

Delicious refreshments were served, and the prizes were unusually pretty. The first prize, won by Miss Marion Nutting, and the special prize for Miss Barnett, were white parasols; the consolation, a fan, was won by Mrs. T. P. Holliday.

Miss Jeter's pale green messaline gown was becoming to her blond beauty, and Miss Lamar Jeter was charming in white embroidered batiste. Miss Barnett wore a dainty lingerie gown.

Other attractive visitors were Mrs. Walker Wilhelm, who wore a pretty toilet of white swiss embroidered in black, and Mrs. Wade Lowry, who was gowned in pink mull and lace.

To Miss Derr.

Miss Pauline Hope gave a matinee box party yesterday at the Grand in compliment to Miss Derr of Illinois, the guest of Miss Pauline Lewis. The other guests were: Mrs. Paul Dobbins, Mrs. John Moody and Miss Edith Tanner.

To Miss Welling.

Miss Bessie Dobbs has issued invitations for a domino party Tuesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Welling, of South Carolina, the guest of Miss Breitenbucher.

To Miss Mills.

The euchre party given yesterday by Misses Gertrude and Lee Brandon in compliment to their guest, Miss Leila Mills, of Hopkinsville, Ky., was a large and enjoyable affair at their home in West End.

The decorations were of roses in several colors and other flowers from the home garden, and the game was followed by delicious cool refreshments.

The Trail Club, of which the Misses Brandon are members, were included among the guests, and there were special club prizes of hand-painted china. These were won by Miss Annie Sharpe and Mrs. Hunt.

Mrs. J. J. Simpson won the first general prize, a parasol; Mrs. Robert Troy, the consolation, a fan, and Miss Mills was presented a set of gold pins.

The Misses Brandon wore dainty lingerie gowns elaborate with lace, and Miss Mills wore a pretty toilet of pink silk.

To House Party.

One of the most enjoyable of the numerous parties in honor of Mrs. W. L. Champion and her guests, Misses Harwell, Thomas, Adams, Jenkins, the Misses Walton and the Misses Lawrence, was Mrs. Theo Harwell's card party yesterday morning.

Nasturtiums made a graceful decoration throughout the house, and the score cards and ices were in the designs of cards.

Mrs. Harwell received in a becoming lingerie gown, and she was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Champion, Mrs. John T. Dennis an dMrs. Grieve Harwell.

JOHN L. SUTTON DIED YESTERDAY

Prominent Atlanta Business Man Dies Following Operation for Appendicitis.

John L. Sutton, a member of the wholesale dry goods firm of Everett, Ridley & Co., well known in business circles of Atlanta, died at a private sanitarium yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock. His death, while a distinct shock to many friends in the city, was not altogether unexpected, Mr. Sutton having recently undergone an operation for appendicitis, since which time he grew steadily worse until the end came.

John Linton Sutton was born at Danburg, Wilkes county, Georgia, thirty-five years ago. He received his education at Emory college and came to Atlanta about twelve years ago. Mr. Sutton became connected with the old firm of Everett, Ridley & Ragan Company shortly after coming to Atlanta and upon the death of Captain W. S. Everett, about three years ago, he became a member of the new firm of

JOHN L. SUTTON.
Prominent Atlantan who passed away yesterday morning.

Everett, Ridley & Co. Mr. Sutton was the buyer of the new firm and in this position was thrown into contact with many people in Atlanta and other cities, who will learn with regret of his untimely decease.

Mr. Sutton married Miss Bertha Dewberry several years ago and the union was blessed with one child, a girl of 6 years. He was a member of the Inman Park Methodist church and was a man of kindly and affable disposition. Mr. Sutton was not a member of any of the social clubs of Atlanta and was devoted to his home and the business in which he was interested.

Mr. Sutton is survived by his parents and four brothers and three sisters in addition to his wife and child. Several of the members of his family living away from Atlanta, the funeral will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Inman Park Methodist church, in order to give them an opportunity to attend the funeral. The interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

LARGE PECAN CROP IN TEXAS.

Reports Indicate Crop Will Be the Largest Ever Known.

Waco, Tex., July 3.—Reports from all parts of Texas are to the effect that the pecan crop promises to be the largest ever known. Last year's crop was a total failure for the first time in twenty-five years. Texas raises nearly all the pecans raised in the United States, and the nuts are getting so popular that the question of supply is an interesting one.

THEATERS.

"Miss Hobbs" Next Week.

"Miss Hoobs," that delightful society comedy, has been selected by Manager Fawcett, of the Fawcett Stock Company, for the bill which is to be presented at the Grand for the week of July 8. This selection is bound to prove a happy one by reason of the fact that it is a comedy pure and simple and is as breezy as it is delightful.

Special Matinee.

The Glorious Fourth will be celebrated at the Grand by the Fawcett Stock Company with an extra matinee of the "Soldiers of Fortune." This play has improved wonderfully in its presentation since Monday night..

At the Casino.

There will be two performances of "A Stranger in Town" at the Ponce de Leon casino today, the Gloridous Fourth. This little company has attracted a great deal of attention. Vaudeville is to be the attraction at the Ponce de Leon casino the week starting Monday. That this class of entertainment will receive a royal welcome is best evidenced by the fact that already a number of reservations have been filed in the box office.

Pastime Theater.

Those who have not seen the child wonders, Master Earl and Miss Mazie Whitcomb, at the Pastime theater on Peachtree street this week are missing a delightful treat. The matinees will begin early today and the show will run late tonight to accammodate the holiday crowds.

Turkish Postage Stamps for Sale.

Washington, July 3.—Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister, today announced that his government has a collection of 17,000,000 postage stamps which will be sold at auction in August, and the proceeds donated to the Hisaz railway, which is being constructed from Damascus to Beirut. The collection of stamps consists of more than one hundred denominations which have been issued by the Turkish government during the last forty-three years.

Long Live the King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c

CRACKERS LAND FINAL GAME FROM NASHVILLE

Edited by Alex Lynn

CINCH VICTORY FOR CRACKERS

Nashville's Errors Were Numerous and Costly Yesterday.

It Was a Hitting Fest, With Atlanta Drawing Sixteen to the Dobbers' Eleven, Every One Except the Hard-Hitting Paskert Getting a Safety.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.

Savannah-Charleston—Rain.

By GRANTLAND RICE.

Nashville, Tenn., July 3.—(Special.)—The last game of the present series between the Crackers and Dobbers was an old-time slugging match in which the Crackers outslugged and outplayed Dobbs' bunch of boosters and won in a camp score, 10 to 3.

The going was one continuous roar of basehits, with some errors and punk plays mixed in by the Dobbers, who gave a nice exhibition of how the game should not be played. Johnnie Dobbs sent the demon Perdue to the firing line to face Rube Zeller, the Atlanta wizard, and when the shooting was over, Hub resembled a watermelon with the heart cut out.

The Gallatin boy, who was first signed by the Cubs this season, played his position like a schoolboy, handling nothing that came his way. His miserable work in a way contributed to the Crackers' victory. "Gallatin is blown off the map," "back to Gallatin and the plow," and other such advice was handed the hurler during the last rounds of the bout by the sun gods.

The great and only Rube was also off on form, the Dobbers finding him at will and shooting his cleverest benders to all corners of the lot, many of them for extra bases. In fact, the main feature of the melee was the large number of hits for extra bags copped by the members of both squads. Rube was at hard enough to win any game, and had the Dobbers only had a pitcher in the box they would have run away with the match. As it was, Perdue was hammered even harder and given worse support than Atlanta's star.

Reuben got away nicely with his game at that. He tightened up on the cinches and kept the runs down.

The absence of Captain Morse was keenly felt by the home guard. Wiseman did well at second, but at best the doctor is not an infielder, and Elmer Duggan, who occupied the right garden, is not an outfielder.

The Gate City crew started the fireworks in the first inning, and by clever shooting shoved two men over the pan. Not contented with this lead, they came back strong in the second and third rounds and added two scores in each, something after this manner:

Much Doing Here.

Fox shot a three-bagger down third base line, and counted on Sweeney's safe drive. Sweeney registering when Dyer clouted a safe one to left. Third round, Castro reached first on Perdue's fumble, Jordan hit an infield fly and was safe when Perdue let it get away. Fox sacrificed both a bag, Sweeney hit safe, scoring Castro, and punk work by Wiseman and Lister on the return allowed Jordan to count and Sweeney to go to second.

Nashville counted one in the second when McElveen hit for three bags, and scored on Lister's two-bagger.

The Dobbers got another in the fourth, when McElveen singled, and tallied on Lister's long drive for two bases. Their last score came in the fifth, when Dobbs shot one to left for three bases, scoring Wiseman, who had reached first on a fielder's choice. Dobbers had a chance to add a few more in the ninth, but Rube settled down and squashed it.

To give in detail Atlanta's scores would only be a repetition of the hit, run, and score game, and would tire the most ardent fan. It is enough that they counted four more before the battle ended, and carried the game home with them tonight.

BURNS FIGHTS SQUIRES TODAY

All in Readiness for the Contest at Colma.

Both Men Are Fit—Squires Says He Does Not Expect Fight to Last Over Ten Rounds—Squires Is the Favorite in the Betting.

San Francisco, Cal., July 3.—Everything is in readiness for the forty-five round glove contest for the heavyweight championship of the world between Bill Squires, of Australia, and Tommy Burns, of America, which will take place tomorrow afternoon at Colma. The open air arena seating 10,000 persons is completed and Manager Coffreth declared that there would be few, if any, vacant seats. The men are both pronounced by their trainers to be in perfect condition and each asserts himself confident of winning.

The fight means much to Squires, for it will be his first appearance in the prize ring outside of his native land, and upon his success or failure depends his fistic career. He says he does not expect the fight to go over ten rounds and that he is fine as a fiddle, and if defeated he will have no excuse to offer. He has been here long enough to become acclimated, but the warm weather now prevailing suits him better than would a chilly day. He proposes not to waste a second of time after entering the ring, and will make things lively for his opponent from the start.

Burns has been much benefited by the course of training in the open air he has just completed, and is prepared to make the best possible showing against his sturdy antagonist, who, he admits, it somewhat of a doubtful problem to solve. Believing that his science surpasses that of Squires, it is thought he will not attempt rushing tactics, but will try to wear down his opponent until a chance is opened for a knockout blow. The betting is in favor of Squires, the usual odds offering being 7 to 10. Very little Burns money has been put up so far.

Don't bother with the servant problem. Go to the Sweetwater Park Hotel at Lithia Springs, Ga.

Crab Orchard Seltzer is handed you in a bottle with the trade mark, "A woman astride a horse" on each package—do not be imposed upon by accepting Crab Orchard Salts as a substitute that has a similar sounding name.

DR. LITTLE WAS PUSHED BY WILLIAMS IN SINGLES

Great Match Was Stopped by Darkness in Tourney Yesterday—Doubles and Ladies' Singles Marked With Excellent Play.

THE second day of the Southern tennis tourney, which is being carried on at the East Lake courts, brought out some excellent playing, the feature of the afternoon being the match between Dr. Little and Sam Williams, which was called because of darkness. In the first set, Mr. Williams had the score 5-2 in his favor, when Dr. Little, by many beautiful plays, won five straight games, leaving the score 7-5 for the first set. In the second set the score was 7-7, when the game was called.

Others who showed up in excellent form in singles were: Cowan Rodgers, Day, Howell, Bates, Thornton, Orme, Logan, Grant, and Leonard.

The first round and one match of the second round of the ladies' singles were pulled off yesterday afternoon. Misses Minor, Brown, Evans, and Storrs played excellently and won their respective matches. Miss Minor also defeated Miss Brown in the second round. This contest was a feature of the tournament.

The preliminaries and first round of the doubles were pulled off also. Little and Bates, Crawford and Van Gilder, Rodgers brothers, Day and Cox, and Kennedy and McKennie, played well in the doubles.

The sun was scorching in the early part of the afternoon, but later the weather was ideal and the courts in excellent condition.

There are fifty-three who have entered for the singles, eighteen for the doubles, eight for the ladies' singles, and eight for the mixed doubles.

The results of yesterday follow:

WEST END TENNIS MEET GETS UNDER WAY TODAY

THE three courts of the West End Tennis Club, on Lee street, will be the scene of the annual tournament of that club this morning at 8:30 o'clock. In spite of the fact that the club has a membership of more than thtirty fast tennis players, only sixteen have entered the tournament.

Fast tennis will be prevalent and there will be many a hard fought match during the day. E. V. Carter, Jr., who has made such a phenomenal showing against Cowan Rogers in the southern tourney, has entered the West End tourney. He is a member of the club.

The drawings for the first prize match are as follows: Doubles, Arnold and Henry vs. Giles and Adair, Norman and Spratlin vs. Jennings and McKenzie, Spratt and Willingham vs. Middlebrooks and Carter, Abernathy and Irby vs. Baker and Harris.

Singles: Jennings vs. Spratlin, Henry vs. Carter, Norman vs. Middlebrooks, Arnold vs. Irby, Adair vs. Harris, McKenzie vs. Abernathy, Giles vs. Baker, Spratt vs. Willingham.

Play will commence at 8:30 o'clock sharp and continue throughout the day.

PROGRAM FOR THE DAY IN TENNIS TOURNEY

Frank Reynolds, manager of the southern tennis tourney, has given out the following announcement for the time of matches today:

10 O'Clock—Sawyer and Ramspeck v. Norton and Cornelius; Grimm v. Leonard; Cox v. B. M. Grant; Miss Storrs v. Miss Evans; finish match, Williams v. Little; Miss Logan and B Logan v. Miss Westmoreland and Thornton; E. W. Alfirend v M. Tyson; Bates v. R. M. Cowan; Victor Smith v. E. F. Mayberry.

11 O'Clock—Williams and Scott v. Stearns and Kingman; Leonard Haas v. W. Meek; R. G. Lyon v. Coke Davis; Forrest Adair, Jr., v. F. M. Farley, Jr.

12 O'Clock—Logan and Grimm v. Howell and Smith; Day and Cox v. winner Sawyer-Ramspeck and Cornelius and Norton; Miss Janvier and W. B. Grant v. Miss Jackson and B. M. Grant.

Other matches will be played in the morning and the time for each will be posted as the play progresses.

At 3 o'clock several very important and interesting matches will be played. Among them will be the contest between Thornton and Day.

Miss Sutton Still Wins.

London, July 3.—In the all-England tennis championship games at Wimbledon today Miss May Sutton, of California, won the semi-final in the ladies' singles, beating Miss Bosworth by 2-0.

Miss Sutton will play Miss Wilson in the final and in the event of a victory the American player will meet Mrs. Chambers for the title of champion.

TWO GAMES SIGNALIZE RETURN OF CRACKERS

To add to the glories of the glorious Fourth, the Atlanta team returns to Ponce de Leon today, where Montgomery comes for a visit lasting through Saturday. As usual, a morning and afternoon game will be on for the Fourth, the forenoon affair to start at 10:30 o'clock and the other at the usual hour in the afternoon.

Seats for the games are selling like gold bricks among a bunch of rubes, but it is not thought that the slips will materialize into such as the Crackers have strong chances of taking something today. Record-breaking attendance is assured, a bunch of fans from the Alabama capital to come over for the day's sport, thus adding many to the local contingent.

CHRONIC DISEASES CURED

I make a specialty of treating and curing chronic diseases of men and women. I have had a long and large experience in the treatment of such cases and my success as a rule has been satisfactory to both my patients and myself. I attribute this success not only to the fact that I have studied these cases very closely, but because of my direct contact with so large a number of them. Then, too, I always give each case my personal attention and also prepare all medicines myself to suit the special requirements of the case. If you suffer from a chronic trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidney or Bladder; or from a Nervous, Blood or Skin Disease, I invite you to call for free examination, consultation and advice. Write me if you cannot call now.

Clothier Beat by Little.

Orange, N. J., July 3.—Wm. J. Clothier, of Philadelphia, was defeated in the middle states championship tournament today by Raymond D. Little, who captained the American team a year ago in England. The three sets of the match were filled with brilliant tennis, Little scoring his place in the semi-final round at 6-1; 4-6; 6-4.

WAREHOUSE

ONE-HALF BLOCK NEW SOUTHERN FREIGHT DEPOT, 3 STORY, MILL CONSTRUCTED BRICK BUILDING, 47x120 FEET. ELECTRIC LIGHTS, ELECTRIC ELEVATOR, DOUBLE FLOORS, PLATE GLASS FRONT. BASEMENT HAS CEMENT FLOOR, TEN-FOOT POSTS, FRONT AND REAR ENTRANCES, FINEST LIGHT IN THE CITY. WILL RENT TO ONE OR MORE TENANTS. INQUIRE AT 29 GARNETT STREET.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

FARM AND INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES ON THE SEABOARD AIR LINE RAILWAY.

SOAPSTONE DEPOSITS: Embracing approximately forty acres, within thirty-eight miles of Atlanta and very conveniently located with reference to transportation facilities. These deposits will yield good size blocks or slabs. The material saws easily, which insures minimum quarry expense. Samples can be seen at our offices.

MICA DEPOSIT: Embracing about twenty acres. The indications are exceptionally good, but it would be necessary to make some additional openings before the full extent and value of the deposits can be determined. Property is nicely located for shipping. The enormous demand for this material and the high prices prevailing for both the sheet and scrap should make this opportunity very inviting.

LOCATION FOR PHYSICIAN: In a middle Georgia town, the only physician and surgeon, on account of age, desires to retire from a practice which has required many years to build up. His home consists of eighty acres of fine land, with an eight-room two-story residence, barn, stables, etc. The residence is practically new. Titles perfect. Price $2,500, with reasonable terms.

LOCATION FOR FARMER AND FRUIT GROWER: 265 acres, 1 1-2 miles from our main line, and same distance from a good town. 40 acres of beautiful valley land. 140 acres in cultivation, balance pasture and timber. 2,000 peach trees, 100 pears, and other fruit. A first-class nine-room two-story dwelling, three tenant houses, barn, store house, etc. Price $20 per acre.

WE WANT TIMBER: A tract of sweet gum or red gum, on or within three miles of our line, for a crate and box manufacturer, who would establish a very large plant, employing high-class labor. This proposition should therefore interest any community on the Seaboard where the materials can be secured. For additional information concerning these or other profitable opportunities for investment, and for literature and property lists, call on or address Seaboard Industrial Agency.

THE BEST TRACT OF TIMBER BETWEEN ATLANTA AND BIRMINGHAM IS FOR SALE.

ONE THOUSAND, two hundred acres of virgin pine and hardwood. Pine predominates, but there is also a magnificent growth of white oak and poplar, with a sprinkling of fine hickory. The timber is very long bodied, and averages well in diameter. On a little more than one acre, we counted 280 large pine trees which would easily cut 250,000 feet. The property will average between six and seven thousand feet to the acre, plus 500,000 oak crossties. The land is perfectly level, and after timber is removed will make one of the best stock, grain and cotton farms in the entire valley. Additional timber adjoins this and can also be secured. There is no plant manufacturing sash, doors, blinds, flooring, etc., between Atlanta and Birmingham, and this timber should prove especially inviting to a concern of that nature. Price $20 per acre in fee.

Assistant General Industrial Agent, Seaboard Air Line Railway, 1109 English-American Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

FIRST WENT UP; THEN CAME DOWN

Quite an Exciting Day With July Cotton.

Shortly After Market Opened July Advanced About $2.50 Bale, but Under Realizing Price Dropped to About 4 Points From the Lowest.

New York, July 3.—The cotton market had a very active early session, but trading was comparatively quiet after the first two hours and prices were generally lower under realizing. The close was steady, but at a net decline of 13@23 points. Sales were estimated at 600,000 bales. The opening was firm at an advance of 54 points on July which advanced from 12.70 to 13.00 on the call, with 5 and 10 points between transactions, but the rest of the list was only 5@10 points higher in response to higher cables and it looked as though some of the leading bulls were making up July on a comparatively new purchase in order to make a selling basis for the later months. At any rate, realizing was tremendously heavy right after the call, and the market worked steadily lower during the day, with the low point just before the close. After the big advance in July that month sold off to 12.35, rallied again to 12.60, but closed at 12.30 bid; showing the absence of any general interest. The close on later months was within 2@4 points of the lowest. French buying for long account was probably checked to some extent by the violence of the advance immediately following the July bureau report of yesterday and there was also a disposition to postpone fresh ventures until after the holiday, during which the English market will be open. Reports that the dry hot spell in Texas had been broken by beneficial rains, may have had some influence during the session, but it was not believed that was any selling of consequence for short account, and opinions, as a whole, were considered chiefly evening up of the outstanding interest.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, La., July 3.—Cotton spots closed quiet and unchanged, middling 13 1-8. Sales were 275 bales on the spot with none to arrive.

Good rains throughout the greater part of the cotton belt and the breaking of the drouth in Texas caused futures to open weak with the active months two to three points below the close yesterday. As far as the July option was concerned, the market opened about 20 points up. The usual slump which follows a day like Tuesday, when the condition report caused a marked and general advance, was in evidence and this feature, with selling on the part of those who did not wish to carry over the holiday and for the purpose of profit taking, had a bearish effect. At the close, which was steady, July was three points below yesterday's close with the active months 13 to 14 points down.

Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 3.—The dry goods market was very firm for the day and cotton goods were quite active. An advance of ¼c was announced in some lines of bleached goods. Hosiery and underwear are very firm. Men's wear agents report a better demand for fancies for spring.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, July 3.—Cotton closed quiet, prices 20 points higher. American middling fair, 8.46; good middling 7.92; middling 7.42; low middling 7.06; good ordinary 6.32; ordinary 5.72. Sales for the day were 10,000 bales, of which 5,000 were for speculation and export and included 9,400 American. Receipts 1,000 bales, including 100 American. Futures opened firm and closed barely steady.

Secretary Hester's Monthly Cotton Statement.

New Orleans, July 3.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today covers the monthly movement to the close of June.

Compared with last year it shows a decrease for the month in round figures of 60,000 bales, compared with year before last a decrease of 266,000 and with 1904 an increase of 66,000.

The total for June was 209,746, against 269,356 last year, 475,903 year before last and 144,211 same time in 1904.

The movement from September 1 to close of June inclusive, shows receipts at all United States ports 9,764,613, against 7,652,797 last year, 9,606,188 year before last and 7,070,623 same time in 1904; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 1,190,137, against 962,560 last year, 1,057,193 year before last and 909,006 same time in 1904; southern mills takings, exclusive of quantity consumed at southern outports 2,205,500, against 2,086,461 last year, 1,928,000 year before last and 1,766,000 same time in 1904; and interior stocks in excess of those held at the commencement of the season 66,802, against 79,126 last year, 147,967 year before last and 83,279 same time in 1904.

These make the total movement of the cotton crop brought into sight during the ten months ending close of June, 12,227,052, against 10,780,944 last year, 12,759,348 year before last and 9,828,908 same time in 1904.

Northern spinners took during June 81,786 bales, against 104,531 last year and 119,303 year before last, increasing their total for the ten months to 2,492,503, against 2,321,231 last year and 2,199,698 the year before. This makes their average weekly takings for the season 57,582, against 53,628 last year and 50,818 the year before.

Foreign exports for the ten months of the season have been 8,250,946 bales, showing an increase over last season of 2,011,621 and a increase over the same period year before last of 823,507. The decrease in foreign exports during June, compared with June last year, has been 77,971, and compared with the same period year before last 277,694.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior markets on close of June were 512,241, against 503,389 the same date last year and 601,830 the year before.

Including port and interior town stocks left over from the previous season and the number of bales of the current crop brought into sight during the ten months, the supply has been 13,524,882, against 11,225,475 last year and 12,901,315 the year before.

Up to the close of June last year 95.02 per cent of the cotton crop had been marketed and for the same ten months in 1905 the percentage of the crop brought into sight was 93.09 and for the same time in 1904 the percentage marketed was 98.18.

REMARKS.

Lower temperatures are reported this morning from nearly all stations. The greatest decrease has occurred in the western part. Rain has fallen in all districts except Little Rock and Memphis, the heaviest rainfalls being reported from the eastern part.

J. B. MARBURY,
Section Director

Hayward, Vick & Clark.

New Orleans, July 3.—COTTON—About the only thing to check bullish aggressiveness and bearish fright occurred overnight, in the shape of extensive showers in central and southern Texas. This, and holiday tomorrow, prompted longs to take profits and there was enough contracts offered around the opening today to keep shorts quiet and to cause a reaction, in spite of the strong Liverpool. Futures in the English market showed the full advance of 25 to 29 points. Spot prices are 20 points higher and spot sales were raised to a total of 10,000. This selling stopped, however, and our market steadied as soon as the government forecast for the western belt was posted, promising rain and warmer weather for Texas, which revived fears of drought, a condition most dreaded, and which could do great damage by retarding growth and injuring young plants. No wonder, therefore, that the markets are very susceptible to predictions of fair weather in the west. The recent precipitation in Texas was not caused by real rain developments good for a couple of days, but only by the temporary cause of the passing in of a cool wave. Weather conditions during the past 24 hours were generally favorable. Good showers occurred in all states except Arkansas. Temperatures were lower. Official records show no precipitation, however, in the south, and west of Texas at Ballinger, Beeville, Brownwood etc., which forced the whole list down, October selling at 12.15 within the first half hour. Here a prominent broker began buying, and found no cotton for sale, the result being that October went to 12.30 again within three minutes after it had sold at 12.15. The market sagged again, however, more gradually this time, and at 2 p. m. prices were 10 points under yesterday's close. News, except the detailed weathr report, was scarce. The Texas map indicated rains from a trace to 1.36 at twenty out of thirty-two stations in the northern, central and southwest sections, but no rain was reported in the extreme western portion, where moisture is said to be badly needed.

After yesterday's upheaval, a reactionary tendency from profittaking is only natural, and with many skeptical on the correctness of the government's figures, we may see a further setback, but the spinner must have some basis to calculate on and will no doubt take bureau figures as being the most reliable and disinterested. Twelve cents looks high at this season of the year, but unless ideal weather ensues and continues for some time, it will be far from conservative to count on more than a very moderate yield, and a crop of under twelve million bales is worth current values and will likely sell much higher before the bales commence to move.

The Treasury Statement.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Today's treasury balances exclusive of the gold reserve show:

Available cash balance $264,346,812; gold coin and bullion $73,839,493.

Foreign Finances.

London, July 3.—The supplies of money were plentiful in the market today and the demand for fair. Discounts were easy.

Trading on the stock market exchange was dull and uninteresting. Operators who had accumulated stock in anticipation of a broadening of business lost heart owing to the absence of outside support and prices gradually eased, led by consols. Americans, although fractionally above parity, remained extremely idle in the forenoon. Yesterday's rise in the price of cotton checked new ventures while dealers were disposed to reduce their commitments prior to tomorrow's holiday. Later the New York advices caused a much better feeling and prices hardened and closed firmer.

Foreigners were in better demand. Rio Tintos was the feature on the strength of the metal. Japanese imperial sixes of 1904 closed at 102½.

Paris, July 3.—Prices on the Bourse today opened irregular and closed steady. Trading was quiet. Russian imperial four were unquoted and Russian bonds of 1904 closed at 4.84.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, July 3.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points in sympathy with steady foreign markets and lighter Brazilian receipts. Trading was very quiet at first, but became more active in the afternoon as a result of the buying supposed to be for the account of European shorts and the market closed firm at a net advance of 0 points. Sales were reported of 32,750 bags, including July at 5.35@5.40; September at 5.30@5.35; October at 5.35; December at 5.35@5.50; March at 5.45@5.55; May 5.50@5.60.

Spot coffee steady; Rio No. 7, 6¼c; Santos No. 4, 7¾c; mild coffee quiet; Cordova 9@12¼c.

New Orleans, July 3.—Coffee quiet; invoices Rio No. 8, 6¼c; No. 7, 6⅝c; No. 6, 6¾c; No. 4, 7½c.

Sugar steady; open kettle centrfugal 3½@3⅝; centrifugal yellow 3⅞@3¾; seconds 3¼@3⅜. Molasses quiet; new syrup 30@34.

The Metal Market.

New York, July 3.—There was a big advance in the London market, particularly on spots which were £4 higher at £199. Futures advanced £1 10s to £184. Locally the market was easy with spot quoted at $42.50@42.75.

Copper was £1 5s higher at £99 15s for spot and £1 15s higher at £94 for fours in the London market. Locally the market was dull with Lake quoted at $23.25@24.00; electorlytic at $22.00@22.50 and casting at $21.00@21.25.

Lead was dull and lower in the local market, leading producers reporting a decline of 50 points in the solling price to $5.25. The London market was unchanged at £20 15s. Spelter was unchanged at £24 in London but was locally at $6.30@6.35.

Iron was higher in the English market with standard foundry quoted at 56s 6d and Cleveland warrants at 56s 9d. Locally the market was unchanged.

No. 1 northern is quoted at $24.50@25.70; No. 2 foundry northern $24@25 Southern grades nominal.

St. Louis, July3.—Lead dull, $5.60@5.62½. Spelter, weak, $6.25@6.27½.

September Wheat in Chicago Closed 1-8 Cent Higher.

Market Opened Strong on Account of Reports of Wet Weather Interfering With Harvesting in Germany and England—Closed Steady.

Chicago, July 3.—For the third successive day, strong markets for wheat at European grain centers raised prices on the exchange. The market here today, however, showed only a small gain at the close, the September delivery being up 1-8. Corn was a shade higher. Oats were up 1-8@1-4. Provisions were 10 to 20 cents higher.

The local market opened strong because of wet weather in Germany and England and unfavorable harvesting reports in this country. Commission houses and shorts were bidders and for a time there was little wheat for sale. Later the market became easier on the receipt of dispatches declaring that winter wheat had slightly improved during June. The market weakened under this selling pressure and prices declined more than 1 cent from the high point. Later the market again became strong and closed firm. September opened 1-4@3-8 to 5-8 to 3-4 higher at 99 3-4 to $1.00 1-8, sold between 99 and $1.00 1-4 and closed at 99 1-2@5-8c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 182,000 bushels. The world's avisible supply as shown by Bradstreet's decreased 6,500,000 bushels against a holiday last year. Minneapolis Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 383 cars against 297 last week and a holiday last year.

The Illinois and Ohio crop reports which showed a decline of 12 and 13 points respectively in the condition of the corn crop of those states as compared to the corresponding time last year was responsible in great measure for a strong opening in corn. The advance in wheat and damage reports were also bullish at first. The market weakened along with wheat and the greater part of the grain las lost. The market closed steady. September opened 3-8@1-3 to 58@34 higher at 55@1-2 to 58@3-4 higher opened 3-8@1-2 to the 3-4 higher at 55 5-8. Local receipts 282 cars, 44 contract grate.

Oats were strong all day because of unfavorable reports regarding the progress of the crop. The market declined in sympathy with wheat but rallied again at 30 5-8. Local receipts 52 cars.

Provisions were weak because of large primary receipts, and a decline of 10 cents in the price of live hogs. At the close September pork was down 20 cents at 8.72 1-2.

Estimated receipts for Friday: Wheat 14 cars; corn 248; oats 78; hogs 22,000 head.

The board of trade will be closed tomorrow, July 4.

The secret's out.

It's no longer difficult to get good whiskey—that is, if you will get away from the habit of taking "any old thing" that's handed out. That's about what you get when you're served from the bottle without a brand—usually a whiskey that is short on quality, but long on profit.

Next time be sure to ask for MARK ROGERS—look at the bottle and see that you get it. Then you'll get a whiskey worth while—with all the age, purity and bouquet that a good whiskey must have. Do this once—then you'll get the habit.

MARK ROGERS can be had at all good places, but you may have to ask for it. It's worth while.

STOCKS UNSTEADY AT THE OPENING

Exportation of Gold to Europe Was the Cause.

However, the Check to the Paris Gold Movement Made the Market More Steady, but the Tone of the Market Was Rather Heavy All Day.

New York, July 3.—The fluctuations of speculative sentiment and of prices today were directed by the developments bearing on the money prospect, especially the export gold movement. Stocks were under pressure at the outset on account of the unexpected English engagements of $1,000,000 in good for export for Holland, and the anticipation that additional engagements would be made for shipment to Paris today. The recovery in stocks began to set in when the chances of gold going out to Paris tomorrow began to decline. The small margin of surplus reserves held by the banks readily explains the sensitiveness of operators embarking on speculation in stocks on margin, to any threat of still further depression of the banking reserves. The check to the Paris gold movement was the more welcome as the rates for money on call at the stock exchange continue to hold up, with only gradual realization from the strain of the July settlements. An incident of the day was the transfer, through the subtreasury, of $100,000 to New Orleans, marking the beginning of the southern demand for the moving of the cotton crop. With the winter wheat harvest approaching, it will be necessary to take account of an early demand from that quarter also for currency. It was noted with interest that the treasury department's statement of money in circulation on July 1 showed a declining tendency for the first time in a long while. The decline for the month amounted to $25,440,313, which is about the amount of gold that has left the country on the present export movement. The deremption of the government 4 per cent bonds is proceeding even more slowly than was anticipated and the replenishment of funds from that cause will be delayed. Meantime, the return of $30,000,000 of government deposits is scheduled for July 10. Some part of this sum already has been repaid to the treasury, the amount running to near $3,000,000, according to yesterday's statement.

Disappointment over the meagerness of the demand resulting from reinvestment of July disbursements was more pronounced in London than here. A review of the large commitments to be made by subscription obligations already accrued, although slight on the backward cases of such reinvestment on the existing securities. Besides the $11,625,000 paid on July 1 for new Northern Pacific stock there must be met this month, a payment of $3,000,000 on July 8, for Great Northern preferred subscriptions, $15,000,000 on July 10 for Union Pacific convertible bonds subscriptions and $7,200,000 on July 10, for Southern Pacific preferred subscriptions. Installments for these and other capital subscriptions are to recur from time to time for many months to come. The drafts on the future capital resources available for the market thus already secured keeps down the supply available for any investment in the stocks current in the market. With the passing of the prospect of immediate gold exports, however, the organized support in the market was able to push prices upwards. The successful passing of the Paris stock market settlement was a helpful factor. So was the uniformly good showing of railroad net earnings for May, reports of the Harriman Pacifics being added during the day. The copper stocks showed some special strength which gave rise to the supposition that progress was making towards an agreement between buyers and sellers of that metal. The grain carrying railroads were the holidayalso conspicuous. The approach of the holiday detracted from the interest and activity of the market. There was considerable disorder in the closing dealings, rapid declines on profit taking showing at some points while the bidding up process was persisted in at others.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $765,000.

United States 2's advanced ¼ and the 3's ½, while the 4's registered a decline of ¼ and the coupon ½ per cent on call.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 3.—The market had a sensational display at the opening, of a fierce bidding up of the near positions, which, in view of the concentrated holding, was a palpable effort to stimulate the later deliveries. Liberal selling of them, as was expected, followed, and the market rested at the moderate advance, with no particular demand from the outside world to absorb the offerings. The bureau report is not entirely credited. The recent good weather certainly justifies a greater improvement in condition than 1 1-2 per cent, and while the crop is undeniably late and stunted, notice must be taken of the high prices and the resulting derangement of consumption demand. Apart from the opening, the market has been easier and almost dull, adapting itself to the new plane.

Carpenter, Baggot & Co.

New York, July 3.—COTTON—The feature today in the early session was the July option, which sold at 13 cents on the call. The advance in this option, however, was followed by heavy selling of the other positions, which responded only feebly to the advance in the spot month. The market has been reactionary almost the entire session, and naturally so, we think, after the sharp advance of yesterday, for the accrued profits to those interested on the long side were of such proportion that conservatism demanded their acceptance. This, and nothing else, we think, is responsible for the decline we are now having, and which at the moment looks as if it would go further. The bureau report of 72, by far the lowest ever recorded in July, has proved a veritable sensation, and the price is in new ground for cotton at this season of the year. The tradeers are simply stupefied by the figures and shorts have run to cover.

The advance has been quick and decisive and, with the short interest practically covered, the reaction is healthy and not unreasonable, or uncalled for, after the recent advance of more than $5 per bale. We are none the less bullish than we have been for the past three months, believing in very much higher prices as a finality, but the market now has enjoyed an advance of nearly 4 cents a pound from the bottom prices reached, and we think conservatism should be used in buying only on the recessions. The law of supply and demand will govern the prices. With the smallness of the former and the largeness of the latter, there can be no question as to the ultimate outcome of prices. The real advance, however, we think, will come later on when cotton is due to move and does not move; in other words, it will bull itself in the end, free from all manipulation. Liverpool is due, July 5 down, August 7½ down, September 5 down, October 5½ down January 5½ down.
